

Contents

List of Figures	xi
List of Tables	xiii
Notes on Contributors	xv
Foreword by James MacGregor Burns	xxi
Preface by Donald J. Polden	xxiii
Acknowledgments	xxvii
Copyright Acknowledgments	xxix

Introduction	1
Paula A. Monopoli and Susan G. McCarty

PART I: LAWYERS AS LEADERS

1	Leadership Studies for Lawyers of the Future Phoebe A. Haddon	5
2	The Nexus between Leadership Theory and Law Georgia Sorenson	19
3	Leadership Competencies in Law Larry Richard	35
4	Leaders in the Changing Legal Economy Alexina Jackson	55
5	Private Practice and Leadership Maura DeMouy	69
6	Policy and Government Leadership Mickey Edwards	81

PART II: WHY LEADERSHIP STUDIES IN LAW SCHOOL?

- | | | |
|---|--|-----|
| 7 | Why Law Schools Should Emphasize
Leadership Theory and Practice
Leary Davis | 91 |
| 8 | An Argument for Leadership Education in Law Schools
Diane Hoffmann | 125 |
| 9 | Thinking Like a Lawyer versus Thinking Like a Leader
Michael Kelly | 141 |

PART III: DEVELOPING A CURRICULUM: AN INTERDISCIPLINARY APPROACH

- | | | |
|----|---|-----|
| 10 | Charting a New Professional Responsibility Course in a
Post-Carnegie World
Brenda Bratton Blom, Lydia Nussbaum and Bonnie Allen | 167 |
| 11 | Developing Leadership through Discussion and Passion:
A Law Student's Perspective
Avery M. Blank | 197 |
| 12 | Recovering Relational Lawyering:
Building Ethical Leaders through Mentorship
Brenda Bratton Blom and Dorcas R. Gilmore | 203 |
| 13 | Reflections on Team Production in
Professional Schools and the Workplace
Robert J. Rhee | 213 |
| 14 | Law, Leadership, and the Literary Canon
Alan D. Hornstein | 223 |
| 15 | Acknowledging Uncommon Relationships:
Changing How We Teach Students to be Leaders
Susan Leviton, Kerry Cooperman and Jeremy Grant-Skinner | 233 |
| 16 | Teaching Gender and Leadership
Paula A. Monopoli | 253 |