

Contents

---

Preface / xi

Foreword / xiii

Introduction / xv

1. Some Theoretical Aspects of “Comparative Taxation” / 1

I. What is comparative taxation? / 1

II. Some possible approaches to the study of comparative tax law / 2

A. The functional approach to comparative tax studies / 4

B. Comparative tax law as a study of cultural differences / 7

C. The critical approach to comparative tax studies / 9

D. Comparative tax study as an exercise in economic analysis / 10

1. The economic principles of taxation: efficiency, equity, and simplicity / 12

E. What to expect next / 16

2. Taxable Income / 17

I. Taxable income definition: global vs. schedular and source vs. accretion / 17

II. Taxation of fringe benefits / 23

III. Imputed income from owner-occupied housing / 27

IV. Windfalls / 32

V. Damage awards / 34

A. Taxation of damage awards / 35

1. The treatment of damage awards / 35

2. The issue of deferred damage compensation / 37

B. Which “damages” receive favorable treatment? physical? mental? reputation? / 37

VI. Cancellation of indebtedness / 38

A. Inclusion of debt relief in gross income / 38

B. Exceptions to inclusion / 40

VII. Gifts and bequests / 40

A. Personal gifts and bequests / 41

B. Commercial gifts / 44

VIII. The realization requirement / 45

3. Deductions	/ 47
I. Business expenses	/ 48
A. Commuting, clothing, and other nondeductible expenses	/ 48
1. Commuting	/ 48
2. Clothing	/ 50
B. Child care costs	/ 51
C. Travel and entertainment	/ 53
1. Business entertainment	/ 53
2. Business travel	/ 54
D. Capital expenditures	/ 55
E. Depreciation	/ 56
F. Business interest	/ 58
G. Losses	/ 59
1. Capital losses	/ 59
2. Other loss limitations	/ 61
II. Personal expenses	/ 61
A. Apportionment of personal/business expenses	/ 61
B. Medical expenses	/ 62
C. Charitable contributions	/ 64
D. Home mortgage and other personal interest	/ 65
4. The Taxpaying Unit	/ 67
I. Introduction	/ 67
II. The basic issue and the two main models: how should we define taxable units? individual vs. family taxation	/ 67
A. Concrete examples of countries adopting the individual model	/ 70
B. Concrete examples of countries adopting hybrid solutions	/ 71
C. Concrete example of a country adopting the family model	/ 73
III. Anti-assignment of income rules	/ 73
A. The reason for anti-assignment of income rules	/ 73
B. The solutions adopted by some industrialized countries: examples	/ 74
5. Tax Accounting	/ 77
I. The taxable period and the accounting period: general definitions	/ 77
A. Definitions, main issues, and possible solutions	/ 77
B. The solutions adopted by some countries: examples	/ 78
II. Cash model versus accrual model	/ 80
A. The accounting methods: cash versus accrual	/ 80
B. The solutions adopted by some countries: examples	/ 82
III. Net operating losses	/ 84
A. Main issue and possible solutions	/ 84
B. The solutions adopted by some countries: examples	/ 84

6. Taxation of Capital Gains and Losses / 87

- I. General definitions: capital gain and losses, realization, basis / 87
  - A. Definition of capital gain or loss / 87
  - B. The concept of realization and recognition / 89
  - C. The concepts of "basis" (or fiscal value) and "amount realized" / 91
- II. Nonrecognition transaction and exemption transactions / 92
  - A. Nonrecognition transactions / 92
  - B. Examples of concrete policy choices / 94
- III. Taxation of capital gains and capital losses: ordinary income vs. separate income / 97

7. Tax Avoidance / 101

- I. General definitions: tax evasion, tax avoidance, and licit tax savings / 101
- II. Substance over form (the experience of common law countries) / 104
- III. Abuse of law (the experience of civil law countries) / 105
- IV. Hybrid solutions / 107

8. Selected Business Tax Issues / 113

- I. Introduction / 113
- II. The definition of a business entity for tax purposes / 114
  - A. The importance of entity classification for tax purposes in the study of tax convergence / 114
  - B. Corporate entity definitions for tax purposes: examples from the G7 countries / 115
    - 1. Canada / 115
    - 2. France / 119
    - 3. Germany / 120
    - 4. Italy / 122
    - 5. Japan / 123
    - 6. United Kingdom / 124
    - 7. United States / 127
  - C. Summary / 129
- III. Corporate residency / 130
  - A. Conventional determinants of corporate residency / 130
  - B. Characterizing "real seat" of a corporate entity in the G7 / 134
  - C. Summary / 137
- IV. Corporate tax rates / 137
- V. Some general remarks on corporate tax base / 140
- VI. Corporate/shareholders tax integration of distributed profits / 143
  - A. Definition of integration and general issues / 143
  - B. Some specific integration methods adopted by countries / 146

9. Selected International Tax Issues / 149

- I. The basic distinction: global jurisdiction model vs. territorial jurisdiction model / 150
- II. Definition of residence and source / 151
- III. The two principles of international taxation: the single tax principle and the benefits principle / 156
- IV. Outbound transactions / 158
  - A. International tax rules that prevent double taxation / 158
  - B. International tax rules that prevent double nontaxation / 160
- V. Inbound transactions / 164
- VI. Tax treaty models: OECD, UN, and U.S. models / 165
- Conclusion* / 167
- Index* / 169