

Contents

List of illustrations	vii
List of contributors	viii
Preface	x
1 Legitimacy and the “logic” of security THIERRY BALZACQ	1
PART I
Resistance	11
Editor’s introduction	11
2 Security and surveillance contests: resistance and counter-resistance GARY T. MARX	15
3 Contesting and resisting security in post-Mao China JUHA A. VUORI	29
4 Rebellling against biometrics in France PIERRE PIAZZA	44
5 Poking holes and spreading cracks in the wall: resistance to national security policies under Bush FLORENT BLANC	63
PART II
Desecuritization	85
Editor’s introduction	85
6 Security as universality? The Roma contesting security in Europe CLAUDIA ARADAU	89

7	The political limits of desecuritization: security, arms trade, and the EU's economic targets	104
	THIERRY BALZACQ, SARA DEPAUW AND SARAH LÉONARD
8	Just and unjust desecuritization	122
	RITA FLOYD
PART III
	Emancipation	139
	Editor's introduction	139
9	Emancipation and the reality of security: a reconstructive agenda	141
	JOÃO NUNES
10	Contesting border security: emancipation and asylum in the Australian context	154
	MATT MCDONALD
PART IV
	Resilience	169
	Editor's introduction	169
11	Resiliencism and security studies: initiating a dialogue	173
	PHILIPPE BOURBEAU
12	Resilience as standard: risks, hazards and threats	189
	PETER ROGERS
13	Pandemics as staging grounds for resilient world order: SARS, avian flu, and the evolving forms of secure political solidarity	205
	MIKA AALTOLA
	Conclusion: towards an ontopolitics of security	219
	LENE HANSEN
	References	232
	Index	257