

Contents

List of Figures	xiii
List of Tables	xv
1. Peacekeeping and the Problem of Civil War	1
The Scope of the Problem	4
A scourge of civil conflicts	5
The cost of civil conflict	7
Confronting the Problem of Civil War Hostilities: United Nations Peacekeeping	11
Is UN peacekeeping effective? Limitations in studying peacekeeping effectiveness	13
Designing Research to Better Understand UN Peacekeeping Effectiveness	16
Why Should We Care?	21
Outline of the Book	23
2. Measuring Peacekeeping Effectiveness	25
Positive and Negative Conceptualizations of Peace	26
Absolutist Conceptions of Peacekeeping Success and Failure	28
Weaknesses of the Absolutist Approach	29
What Are Peacekeepers Expected to Achieve?	32
Intervening during active conflicts	33
Increasing number of robust mandates	36
Reducing violence by armed actors	38
Protecting civilians	40
Redefining Peacekeeping Success	42
3. Mechanisms of Peacekeeping Effectiveness	45
A Theoretical Connection between UN Peacekeeping and Violence Mitigation	46
Incomplete information and civil war violence	47
Commitment problems and civil war violence	48
Incomplete information, commitment problems, and peacekeeping	49
Activities of UN Peacekeepers	53
Separating combatants and maintaining buffer zones	53
Disarming and providing security to combatants	55
Demobilizing and reintegrating combatants	56

Verifying compliance	57
Policing behind the frontlines	58
Characteristics of Effective Peacekeeping Missions: Capacity and Constitution	59
Capacity of UN missions	61
Constitution of UN missions	68
Capacity, constitution, and the mitigation of violence	71
Conclusion	73
4. Reducing Battlefield Violence	75
Impeding Violence on the Battlefield	76
Ability to stop battlefield violence: The importance of mission capacity and constitution	78
Activity for stopping battlefield violence: Separating combatants	78
Activities for stopping battlefield violence: Disarming, demobilizing, and providing security to combatants	80
Activity for reducing battlefield violence: Verifying compliance	83
Other peacekeeping activities: Patrolling the civilian population and monitoring conflict processes with observers	84
Testable research expectation	85
Research Design: Analyzing the Influence of Peacekeeping on Battlefield Deaths	85
Dependent variable: Battle-related violence	86
Primary independent variables: Peacekeeping mission capacity and constitution	87
Control variables	89
Model	90
Results and Analysis: The Effect of Peacekeeping on Battlefield Violence	91
United Nations observers and violence in civil conflicts	94
Checking robustness and testing alternative explanations of UN peacekeeping effectiveness	95
Underreporting and the UCDP data	99
Conclusion	100
5. Reducing Violence against Civilians	102
Impeding Violence against Civilians	104
Civilian victimization as a tool for gaining power	105
Civilian victimization as a tool for signaling resolve	106
Ability to protect civilians: The importance of mission capacity	107
Ability to protect civilians: The importance of UN troop capacity	109
Ability to protect civilians: The importance of UN police capacity	111
Other peacekeeping functions: Monitoring conflict processes with UN observers	114
Research Design: Analyzing the Influence of Peacekeeping on One-Sided Violence	115

Dependent variable: One-sided violence against civilians	118
Primary independent variables: Peacekeeping mission capacity and constitution	119
Control variables	119
Model	121
Results and Analysis: The Effect of Peacekeeping on One-Sided Violence	121
Extending the analyses	126
Discussion and Conclusion	129
6. Successes and Failures in Côte d'Ivoire and the Democratic Republic of Congo	132
Côte d'Ivoire	133
Introduction: Conflict and peacekeeping in Côte d'Ivoire	133
First phase of UNOCI, 2004: Building capacity and enhancing security	135
Second phase of UNOCI, 2005–2010: Increased stability with lingering tensions	137
Third phase of UNOCI, 2010–2011: Election violence and transition of power	140
Fourth phase of UNOCI, 2012–2017: Protection of civilians and transition to peace	141
Analysis: Capacity, constitution, and UNOCI's effectiveness in violence mitigation	143
Challenge to peacekeeping in Côte d'Ivoire: Mismatch between mandate and capacity	146
Limitation of peacekeeping in Côte d'Ivoire: Lack of confidence in the DDR process	147
Summary of Côte d'Ivoire	148
The Democratic Republic of the Congo	148
Introduction: Conflict and Peacekeeping in the Democratic Republic of Congo	148
First phase of MONUC, 1999–2003: Low capacity and weak constitution	151
Second phase of MONUC, 2003–2006: Growing capacity, changing constitution, and continued violence	152
Third phase of MONUC, 2007–2010: Steady capacity and supporting the government	154
Fourth phase, 2010–2019: Change to the stabilization mission of MONUSCO and development of the Intervention Brigade	155
Analysis: Capacity, constitution, and effectiveness in violence mitigation in the DRC	158
Challenge to peacekeeping in the DRC: Lack of capacity in the UN missions	162

Limitation of peacekeeping in the DRC: Severe commitment problems	163
Limitation of peacekeeping in the DRC: Lack of government cooperation	165
Summary of the DRC	166
Lessons from Two Challenging Cases	167
7. Saving Humanity from Hell?	169
Contribution of this Book	170
Popular accounts of peacekeeping tend to find failure	170
A more systematic exploration of peacekeeping effectiveness	172
Widening the Lens: The Potential Detriments of Peacekeeping	173
Widening the Lens: Downstream Benefits of Peacekeeping	176
Expanding the analysis	176
The Detriments and Benefits of Peacekeeping in Broader Context	180
Peacekeeping and addressing sexual violence	181
Peacekeeping and economic growth	183
Addressing the detriments of peacekeeping with policy reforms	186
Effective, Yes. But Cost-Effective?	187
Saving Humanity from Hell?	189
Appendices	193
List of Cases	193
Appendix to Chapter 4	197
Investigating the relationship between observer personnel and event reporting	197
Matching analyses of battle-related violence	197
Analyzing battle-related violence with different lengths of post-conflict periods	200
Appendix to Chapter 5	201
Exploring the effect of protection mandates on deaths from one-sided violence	201
Matching analysis of deaths from one-sided violence	201
Results of analyses omitting deaths from the Rwandan genocide	204
Analyzing one-sided violence with different lengths of post-conflict periods	204
Bibliography	207
Index	233