1. Introduction to the Behavior Education Program 1

What Is the Purpose of the Book? 1
What Is the BEP? 2
How Efficient and Cost-Effective Is the BEP? 2
Why Are Tier II Interventions Like the BEP Necessary? 3
Which Schools Should Consider Implementing the BEP? 3
"If My School Is Already Implementing a System Like the BEP for At-Risk Students, Will I Still Benefit from Reading This Book?" 4
"Are There Additional Resources to Aid Implementation of the BEP in My School?" 4

2. The Context for Positive Behavior Support in Schools 5

Commitment to Prevention of Problem Behavior 6
Key Features and Examples of Interventions at the Tier II Level 7
Advantages of the BEP as a Tier II Intervention 9
Is There Research That Supports the Feasibility and Effectiveness of the BEP? 10
Resources 11
Building Tier I (Schoolwide) Systems of Behavior Support 11
Building Tier II Systems of Behavior Support 12
Building Tier III Systems of Behavior Support 12

3. The Basic BEP: Critical Features and Processes 14

Defining Features of the BEP 14
Based on Behavioral Principles 15
A Brief Tour of BEP Elements 15
Antecedent Features of the BEP 16
For Whom Is the BEP Most Appropriate? 17
Identifying Students for the BEP 18
Examining Existing Student Data 18
Teacher or Parent Referral 20
Systematic Screening for Behavior Problems 20
How Is the BEP Intervention Integrated into a School's Other Identification Systems for Students in Need? 21

Decision Process for BEP Placement 22
Referral Form 22
BEP Placement Decision 22
Gathering Baseline Data and Signing Contracts 24
BEP Implementation 24
Basic BEP Cycles 24
Daily Features of the Basic BEP 26
Middle School 26
Elementary School 31
Weekly or Twice-Monthly Features 34
Summarize Data 34
Prioritize Students 35
Make Data-Based Decisions 35
Award Reinforcers 35
Discuss New Candidates for the BEP 36
Assign Tasks 36
Quarterly Features 37
Feedback to Teachers and Staff 37
Troubleshooting Problems with Implementation of the BEP 38

4. Getting a BEP Intervention Started 39

"Is My School Ready to Implement the BEP?" 39
"How Do We Build Schoolwide Commitment to the BEP Intervention?" 41
The BEP Development and Implementation Guide 41
Personnel Considerations 42
Location 42
Reinforcement System 42
Referral System 43
System to Manage Data and Fade Intervention 43
System to Address Training Needs 43
Budget 46
Final Considerations Prior to BEP Implementation 47

5. Roles, Responsibilities, and Training Needs Related to Implementing the BEP 49

DEANNE A. CRONE, LEANNE S. HAWKEN, and K. SANDRA MACLEOD

BEP Coordinator 49
Roles and Responsibilities 49
Training 53
Behavior Support Team 59
Roles and Responsibilities 59
Training 60
Administrator 60
Roles and Responsibilities 60
Teaching Staff 61
Roles and Responsibilities 61

6. Designing the BEP to Fit Your School 71

Designing a DPR 71
Determining Expectations 71
DPR Rating System 73
Nonclassroom Settings 75
Other Considerations 77
Summary 77
Naming the BEP Intervention and the DPR 78
Developing an Effective Reinforcement System for the BEP 79
Rationale 79
Assessing Reinforcer Preference 80
Reinforcers for Checking In and Checking Out 82
Reinforcers for Meeting Daily Point Goals 83
Who Provides the Reinforcement? 85
Reinforcement for Teachers 86
Reinforcer Budget 86
Summary 87

7. Measuring Response to the BEP Intervention and Fading 88

Measuring Fidelity of BEP Implementation 88
Measuring Response to the BEP Intervention 89
Daily Progress Reports 89
Other Data to Document Response to the BEP Intervention 90
BEP Acceptability Data 91
Fading Students from the BEP Intervention 92
Determining the Appropriate Time to Fade a Student from the BEP 92
Using Self-Management to Fade BEP Support 93
Increasing Success in Fading BEP Support 94
Graduation and Alumni Parties 95
What If the Student Wants to Stay on the BEP Intervention? 96
Final Consideration for Fading 97

8. The Modified BEP: Adaptations and Elaborations 98

When Does It Make Sense to Use a Modified BEP? 98
Using Functional Behavioral Assessment to Modify the BEP 99
Behavior Maintained by the Desire to Obtain Something 100
Escape-Maintained Behavior 100
Academic-Related Problem Behavior 100
Modifying the BEP to Fit the Needs of a Wider Variety of Students 101
Modifying the BEP for Adult Attention-Motivated Behavior 101
Modifying the BEP for Peer Attention-Motivated Behavior 101
Modifying the BEP for Escape-Motivated Behavior 102
BEP Plus Academic Supports 104
Functional Behavioral Assessment 105
Simple FBA 105
Case Example 105
BEP Students with an Individualized Education Plan 114
Communication between the BEP and IEP Teams 123

9. High School Implementation of the BEP 124
Jessica Swain-Bradway and Robert H. Horner

Relevance of BEP Principles for High School Students 125
BEP Plus Academic Supports: Cohesive Support for High School Students 126
Schoolwide Supports, Referral for BEP 126
Social Supports 127
Academic Supports 127
Home Component 128
Student Participation in the High School BEP 128
Target Population for the High School BEP 129
The High School BEP Model 129
Referral and Placement 130
Social and Academic Support: Combined Intervention 131
Evaluation Data from a High School in the Pacific Northwest 143
Contextual Modifications and Implementation 143
Fidelity Evaluation 145
Student Outcomes 146
Summary 149
Acknowledgment 149

10. Adapting the BEP for Preschool Settings 150
Susan S. Johnston and Leanne S. Hawken

Why Consider Implementing the BEP in Preschool Settings? 150
Modifications of the BEP for Preschool Settings 151
Programwide versus Classwide Implementation 152
BEP Coordinator and Team 154
Design of DPR 155
Feedback Sessions 156
Screening Preschool Students for the BEP 156
Case Example 157

11. Cultural Considerations and Adaptations for the BEP 162
Joan Schumann and Jason J. Burrow-Sánchez

Core Components of Cultural Competence 162
Knowing Your Cultural Background 163
Knowing the Cultural Backgrounds of Your Students 163
Implementing Culturally Appropriate Interventions 164
The Behavior Support Team: Acknowledging Our Cultural Representation 165
What Are My Values? 168
Where Do My Values Come From? 169
The Behavior Support Team: Understanding the Cultural Backgrounds of Our Students 170
Example 1: Ms. Ramirez 170
Example 2: Mr. Farrer 171
Example 3: Mrs. Wong 171
Cultural Considerations for BEP Preimplementation 172
The BEP Coordinator: Awareness of Cultural Competency? 172
The Referral Process 173
Home–School Communication Component 173
Reinforcement System: Is It Reinforcing for Students? 174

Cultural Considerations for BEP Implementation 175
Check-In and Check-Out 175
Behavior Expectations and Teacher Feedback 176
Data-Based Decision Making: How Will We Know If It Is Culturally Appropriate? 177
Troubleshooting 179
Conclusion 180

12. Frequently Asked Questions and Troubleshooting the BEP Implementation 181

What If a Student Does Not Check In in the Morning? 181
What If a Student Does Not Check Out in the Afternoon? 181
How Do Students Check Out and Still Get to the Bus on Time? 182
What If a Student Is Consistently Not Checking In or Checking Out? 182
What If Several Students Are Not Checking In and Checking Out? 183
What If Students Who Do Not Need the BEP Want to Be on It in Order to Earn Reinforcers and Receive Adult Attention? 184
Since the BEP Is an Intervention for Students at Risk, Should Students Already Identified as Having a Disability Be Included in the Intervention? 185
How Many Students Can One BEP Coordinator Support? Can There Be More Than One BEP Coordinator? 186
What If the Student Loses His or Her DPR? 186
What Happens When a Student Gets an ODR in an Unstructured Setting and It Is Not Reflected on the DPR? 187
How Do Check-In and Check-Out Occur with Multiple Students? How Does Each Student Get One-on-One Attention? 187
What If Staff Are Not Implementing the BEP Correctly? 188
How Do We Know If Teachers Are Giving Constructive Feedback at Appropriate Times? 189
What If Parents or Caregivers Are Not Following Through, or Use the BEP as a Punitive System? 189
What If a Student Is Consistently Participating in the BEP, and His or Her Behavior Gets Worse? 190
Final Comments on BEP Implementation 190
