

CONTENTS

List of figures	x
List of contributors	xi
Acknowledgments	xvi
Foreword	xviii
Susan Griffin
After the Death of Nature: Introduction	1
Kenneth Worthy, Elizabeth Allison, and Whitney A. Bauman
PART I
Environmental Philosophy and Ethics and Ecofeminism	17
1 Before The Death of Nature : Carolyn Iltis, the Carolyn Merchant Few People Know	19
J. Baird Callicott
2 The Death of Nature or Divorce from Nature?	40
Kenneth Worthy
3 Carolyn Merchant's The Death of Nature : Launching New Trajectories in Interdisciplinary Research	59
Heather Eaton

4	From a Partnership to a Fidelity Ethic: Framing an Old Story for a New Time Norman Wirzba	71
5	Bewitching Nature Elizabeth Allison	86
6	Leading and Misleading Metaphors: From Organism to Anthropocene Holmes Rolston III	103
PART II
	Environmental History	117
7	Personal, Political, and Professional: The Impact of Carolyn Merchant's Life and Leadership Nancy C. Unger	119
8	Carolyn Merchant and The Ecological Indian Shepard Krech III	132
9	All Our Relations: Reflections on Women, Nature, and Science Debora Hammond	144
10	The Other Scientific Revolution: Calvinist Scientists and the Origins of Ecology Mark Stoll	161
11	Carolyn Merchant and the Environmental Humanities in Scandinavia Sverker Sörlin	178

PART III

The Politics of Landscapes, Embodiment, and Epistemologies 199

- 12 Landscape, Science, and Social Reproduction: The Long-Reaching Influence of Carolyn Merchant's Insight
Laura Alice Watt 201
- 13 The Spiritual Politics of the Kendeng Mountains Versus the Global Cement Industry
Dewi Candraningrum 219
- 14 Toward a Political Ecology of Environmental Discourse
Yaakov Garb 235
- 15 Environmental History and the Materialization of Bodies
Whitney A. Bauman 249
- 16 A Mighty Tree is Carolyn Merchant
Patsy Hallen 265
- Afterword
Carolyn Merchant 277

Index 301