

Contents

---

Foreword by Michael C. Jensen	ix
Introduction by Paul J. Zak	xi
Preface: Is Free Enterprise Values in Action? by Oliver R. Goodenough and Monika Gruter Cheney	xxiii
Acknowledgments	xxxi
List of Contributors	xxxiii

PART I: PHILOSOPHICAL FOUNDATIONS OF VALUES

One
The Stories Markets Tell:	3
Affordances for Ethical Behavior in Free Exchange
William D. Casebeer
Two
Free Enterprise, Sympathy, and Virtue	16
Robert C. Solomon
Three
The Status of Moral Emotions in Consequentialist Moral Reasoning	42
Robert H. Frank

PART II: NONHUMAN ORIGINS OF VALUES

Four
How Selfish an Animal? The Case of Primate Cooperation	63
Frans B. M. de Waal
Five
Fairness and Other-Regarding Preferences in Nonhuman Primates	77
Sarah F. Brosnan

PART III: THE EVOLUTION OF VALUES AND SOCIETY

Six
The Evolution of Free Enterprise Values	107
Peter J. Richerson and Robert Boyd

Seven
Building Trust by Wasting Time	142
Carl Bergstrom, Ben Kerr, and Michael Lachmann
PART IV: VALUES AND THE LAW
Eight
Taking Conscience Seriously	157
Lynn A. Stout
Nine
Trustworthiness and Contract	173
Erin Ann O'Hara
Ten
The Vital Role of Norms and Rules in Maintaining Open Public and Private Economies	204
David Schwab and Elinor Ostrom
Eleven
Values, Mechanism Design, and Fairness	228
Oliver R. Goodenough
PART V: VALUES AND THE ECONOMY
Twelve
Values and Value: Moral Economics	259
Paul J. Zak
Thirteen
Building a Market: From Personal to Impersonal Exchange	280
Erik O. Kimbrough, Vernon L. Smith, and Bart J. Wilson
Fourteen
Corporate Honesty and Business Education: A Behavioral Model	300
Herbert Gintis and Rakesh Khurana
Fifteen
What's a Business For?	328
Charles Handy
Index	339