

Contents

Preface	7
Introduction	9
The Renewal of Interest in Lossky in the Czech Republic	9
The Aims and Methods of This Research	14
Lossky's Life and Work before His Exile in Czechoslovakia	17
Childhood Religion as a Spiritual Bridge to Christian Faith in Adulthood	18
Lossky's Rejection of Christianity in Adolescence: A Spiritual-Theological Interpretation	19
From Spiritual Life to Philosophical-Theological Reflection (and Back Again)	23
Lossky's Life in the First Republic of Czechoslovakia	29
Lossky Begins His Life in Czechoslovakia	30
The Response of Czech Academia to Lossky's Worldview	38
Lossky's Literary Output during the First Republic and the Second World War	40
Lossky's Spiritual and Intellectual Friends in Czechoslovakia	46
Lossky's Critics among Czechoslovak Academics	52
Lossky's Orthodoxy and his Orthodox and Catholic Friends	54
The Philosophical-Theological Foundations of Mystical Intuition	62
A Philosophical Defence of Mystical Intuition: Lossky's Polemic with the Materialists and Neo-Thomists	66
Lossky and Hoppe: A Defence of Mystical Intuition	75
The Practice of Mystical Intuition in the Context of Spiritual Theology	81
"Divine Nothing": A Defence of the Cognitive Value of Mystical Experience	82

Christian Mysticism: An Apologetic against the Impersonal Nature of Buddhist Mysticism	87
Defining Transpersonal-Personal Christian Mysticism	92
Discerning the Authenticity of Mystical Visions	93
The Role of the Human "Self" in Mystical Intuition	103
The Spiritual Development of a Personality according to Nikolay Lossky	107
The Spiritual-Ethical Dimension of the Evolution of Nature, Humankind and Human Society	107
Spiritual Development and Lossky's Interpretation of Dostoyevsky	123
The Spiritual-Therapeutic Context: Lossky and the Medical Practice of Ctibor Bezděk	135
Lossky's "Unorthodox" Views	142
Conclusion	148
Bibliography	150
About the Author	158