Contents

| Täbers's Paradox - 20101                   |                                       |
|--|---------------------------------------|
|  |                                       |
|  |                                       |
| Preface                                    | xi senic in Rice                      |
| Teacher's Manual                           | x selsion                             |
| To the Student                             | ix rher Topics                        |
| Acknowledgments                            | vasm xiii                             |
| Introduction                               | xiv                                   |
| The Case for Quantitative Reasoning        | xiv                                   |
| Constructing Analytical Models             | xiv                                   |
|  |                                       |
| 1 Is College Worth the Cost?               | Leactions and Reflections             |
| Framing the Question                       | fluitifying Revenues and Expenses     |
| Building the Model                         | E dat The Gathering                   |
| Analyzing the Results                      | qU n gaib 16                          |
| Exercises                                  | 8 neiusions                           |
| Projects                                   | VIS. 19                               |
|  |                                       |
| 2 How Many People Died in the Civil War?   | 21                                    |
| Reaction                                   | 22 Should I Buy Health Insurance? Ser |
| Meaning in Numbers                         | 22                                    |
| Two-Census Estimates                       | 25 at 1s Insurance, Anyway?           |
| Assumption and the Quantification of Error | SymoW all 26                          |
| Building the Model                         | 08alth Matters                        |
| Conclusions                                | 161a's Choice                         |
| Summary                                    | 32                                    |
| Exercises                                  | 32                                    |
| Projects                                   | 34                                    |
| ee accis                                   |                                       |
| 3 How Much Will This Car Cost?             | 35                                    |
| Legalese and Gobbledygook                  | 35                                    |
| Interesting Thoughts                       | 36                                    |
| Compounding the Problem                    | 38                                    |
|  |                                       |

| APR and APY                           | 39   |
|---------------------------------------|--|
| Monthly Payments                      | 42   |
| Summary                               | 44   |
| Exercises                             | 45   |
| Projects                              | 46   |
| 4 Should We Worry about Arsenic in    | n Rice? 47   |
| Sensationalized Risks and Lifestyle C | Choices 47   |
| Wise Up!                              | 905 48   |
| Concentrating on Units                | 50   |
| Arsenic in Rice                       | diversity of Cambridge.                                |
|                                       | 56 eacher's Marcashur an alegelword grittenian         |
| - with ropics                         | hest international levels of excellmentarile and of 57 |
| Summary                               | 57 cnowledgments                                       |
| Exercises                             | ng/9781108419413 nolpoubo 58                           |
| Projects                              | 00 ne Case for Quantitative Reasoning                  |
| 5 What Is the Economic Impact of t    | he Undocumented? 61                                    |
| Reactions and Reflections             | 16 Is College Worth the Cost?                          |
| Identifying Revenues and Expenses     | 65 ming the Question noting all modifie                |
| Data: The Gathering                   | 69 Militar the Model                                   |
| Adding It Up                          | 76 alyzing the Results                                 |
| Conclusions                           | 77. reises llawmon workbard .ht.l lanoftes             |
| Summary                               | 78   |
|                                       | vailable from the British Library. 78                  |
| Projects                              | 08 How Many People Died in the Civil War?              |
| 6 Should I Buy Health Insurance?      | thillity for the persistence or accupacy               |
| What Is Insurance, Anyway?            | 18 o-Census Estimates, una su designation              |
| What, Me Worry?                       | 82 mantion and the Quantification of Error             |
| Health Matters                        | 88 Iding the Model                                     |
| Lana's Choice                         | 88 nclusions   |
| Errors                                | 93 yramıry   |
| Summary                               | 94   |
| Exercises                             | 94   |
| Projects                              | 95   |
| 7 Can We Recycle Pollution?           | How Much Will This Car Cost?                           |
| Framing the Question                  | and Thought and Services 97                            |
| Basic Chemistry                       | 80 mounding the Problem                                |
| An Evolutionary Model                 | 100  |

| Economics                                      | 102                                     |
|--|---|
| Building a Mathematical Model                  | 801 Units and Scientific Notation       |
| Summary  | 108                                     |
| Exercises                                      | vallidador 109                          |
| Projects                                       | III Statistics                          |
|  |   |
| 8 Why Is It Dark at Night?                     | 113                                     |
| Olbers's Paradox                               | Ell Assessments                         |
| An Olbers Argument                             | 115                                     |
| Cosmology, Physics, and Chemistry              | 117                                     |
| Look Out!                                      | 121                                     |
| Stars and Cars                                 | y to make carefully reasoned 123        |
| Other Arguments                                | 126                                     |
| Conclusions                                    | to drive this point home, we have       |
| Exercises                                      | Freal-world concerns and a host of      |
| Projects                                       | 129 core of the book and are buttressed |
| 9 Where Do the Stars Go in the Daytime?        | se that the topics we explore along 131 |
| Biology and the Eye                            | tions we pose would require a m 131     |
| Linear and Logarithmic Models                  |   |
| Light Adaptation: Setting the Baseline         |   |
| Solving the Riddle                             |   |
| Conclusion familiarity but not a facility will |   |
| Summary  |   |
| Exercises                                      | estions posed. The pedagogy of 140      |
| Projects the extensive, worked examples that   | compose the chapters. Much of 142       |
| 10 Should I Take This Drug for My Headache?    |   |
| What to Consider When Considering              | 143                                     |
| What Are the Chances?                          | n multiple chapters, although           |
| Is This a Fair Coin?                           | 146                                     |
| A Statistical Model of Effectiveness           | 149                                     |
| Conclusion                                     | 153                                     |
| Summary  | 154                                     |
| Exercises                                      | 154                                     |
| Projects                                       | 155                                     |
|  |   |
| Appendices                                     | 157                                     |
| 1. Numeracy                                    | v shouldy by academic standards 450     |
| 2. Arithmetic                                  |   |
| 3. Algebra                                     | 167                                     |

|   | 4.7                                       |
|---|---|
| 4. Geometry   | 71 nomics                                 |
| 5. Units and Scientific Notation                      | 71 ding a Mathematical Model81 mary   |
| <ul><li>6. Functions</li><li>7. Probability</li></ul> | 18 20 20 20 20 20 20 20 20 20 20 20 20 20 |
| 8. Statistics   | 20  |
| 9. Estimation   | 21  |
| EliShould We Worry about Arsenic in Rice?             |   |
| Chille Accessments                                    | 22  |
| Glossary  |   |
| Digneral ITT  | 22 Olbers Argument                        |
| Index   | 22 mology, Physics, and Chemistry         |
|   |   |
|   |   |
|   |   |
|   |   |
|   |   |
|   |   |
|   |   |
|   |   |
|   |   |
|   |   |
|   |   |
|   |   |
|   |   |
|   |   |
|   |   |
|   |   |
|   |   |
|   |   |
|   |   |
|   |   |