

Technical objectivity, technical objectivity and social objectivity are now tightly connected. To neglect one of these aspects of modern culture is to enter the sphere of utopia.

Gaston Bachelard

Contents

The apparently constructed world that the hidden dissolution, the universal corruption that governs what 'is' should be forgotten in order to create a clear and defined coherence of notions and objects, relations and forms - the work of tranquil man. A work that nothingness would be unable to infiltrate and where beautiful names - all names are beautiful - suffice to make us happy.

Maurice Blanchot

These means must be very different from all the others. It seems logical that Morel designed them so that no one who came to this difficulty in running its basic difference from the other
As I do not understand any of them, this greater difficulty

Introduction: Functional Stupidity, Entropy and Negentropy in the Anthropocene	1
1 The Industry of Traces and Automatized Artificial Crowds	19
2 States of Shock, States of Fact, States of Law	41
3 The Destruction of the Faculty of Dreaming	65
4 Overtaken: The Automatic Generation of Protentions	93
5 Within the Electronic Leviathan in Fact and in Law	127
6 On Available Time for the Coming Generation	157
7 Energies and Potentials in the Twenty-First Century	182
8 Above and Beyond the Market	208
Conclusion: Noetic Pollination and the Neganthropocene	226
Notes	248
Index	322