

Contents

Contributors	Page vii
Preface	xi
Part I: Introduction
1 Biodiversity and humanity: paradox and challenge Ke Chung Kim and Robert D. Weaver	3
Part II: Human values and biodiversity
2 Thoreau and Leopold on science and values Bryan G. Norton	31
3 Creation: God and endangered species Holmes Rolston, III	47
4 Biodiversity and ecological justice Eric Katz	61
Part III: Human processes and biodiversity
5 Preindustrial man and environmental degradation William T. Sanders and David Webster	77
6 Conserving biological diversity in the face of climate change Robert L. Peters	105
7 We do not want to become extinct: the question of human survival Norman Myers	133
8 Germplasm conservation and agriculture Garrison Wilkes	151
Part IV: Management of biodiversity and landscapes
9 The paradox of humanity: two views of biodiversity and landscapes Eugene Hargrove	173
10 Biodiversity and landscape management Zev Naveh	187
11 Making a habit of restoration: saving the Eastern Deciduous Forest Leslie Sauer	209
12 Landscapes and management for ecological integrity James Karr	229
Part V: Socioeconomics of biodiversity
13 Economic valuation of biodiversity Robert D. Weaver	255

14	Thinking about the value of biodiversity	Alan Randall	271
15	Lessons from the aging Amazon frontier: opportunities for genuine development	Christopher F. Uhl, Adalberto Verissimo, Paulo Barreto, Marli Maria Mattos, and Recardo Tarifa	287
	Part VI: Strategies for biodiversity conservation
16	Market-based economic development and biodiversity: an assessment of conflict	Robert D. Weaver	307
17	Technology and biodiversity conservation: are they incompatible?	John Cairns, Jr.	327
18	"Emergy" evaluation of biodiversity for ecological engineering	Howard T. Odum	339
19	Urban horticulture: a part of the biodiversity picture	Harold Tukey	361
20	The watchdog role of nongovernmental environmental organizations	M. Rupert Cutler	371
21	Legislative and public agency initiatives in ecosystem and biodiversity conservation	Michael J. Bean	381
	Part VII: Biodiversity and landscapes: postscript
22	Biodiversity and humanity: toward a new paradigm	Robert D. Weaver and Ke Chung Kim	393
	Index		425