

Contents

List of Figures and Tables	viii
Preface and Acknowledgments	ix
1 Introduction	1
Global System Theory	3
Four Propositions on the Transnational Capitalist Class	5
Structure of The Book	7
2 Globalizing Class Theory	10
Theorizing the Dominant Class	10
Structure and Dynamics of the Transnational Capitalist Class	17
Dominant Classes and Dominated Groups	23
“National Interest” and “the National Economy”	29
3 Transnational Corporations and the Global Economy	34
The Global Economy and the Fortune Global 500	36
From “National Companies with Units Abroad” to Globalizing Corporations	47
The Nonrespondents	69
Conclusions	73
4 Corporate Elites and the Transformation of Foreign Investment	81
The Transformation of Foreign Investment	84

Global Brands	85
The Regulatory Climate	89
Phases of Foreign Direct Investment	96
The Home Base and Foreign Investment: The Case of NAFTA	99
Disinvestment	105
Foreign Investment as a Globalizing Practice	107
5 World Best Practice, Benchmarking, and National Competitiveness	113
World Best Practice, Benchmarking, and Globalization	115
Industry Benchmarking	119
Global Program Benchmarking: Six Sigma and the Quest for Perfection	125
Politicians, Professionals, and the "Competitiveness of Nations"	136
World Best Practice as a Globalizing Practice	140
6 Global Corporate Citizenship	149
Regulating the Corporations: History and Theory	151
Employee Relations	160
Corporate Philanthropy and Community Development	167
Safety and Health of Consumers and Citizens	181
Global Corporate Citizenship as a Globalizing Practice: Deconstructing Shell	184
7 The Transnational Capitalist Class and the Struggle for the Environment	198
History and Theory of Corporate Environmentalism	199
Corporate Capture of the Environmental Movement or Constructive Dialogue: The Creation of a Sustainable Development Historical Bloc	206
Environmental Policies and Practices of Major Corporations	215
Sustainable Development as a Globalizing Ideology	247

8	Global Vision and the Culture-Ideology of Consumerism	255
	Consumer-oriented Global Visions for Humanity	257
	Industry-oriented Global Visions	270
	Organization-oriented Global Visions	273
	The Visionary Executive	282
	Global Vision as a Globalizing Practice	288
9	Conclusion	295
	Appendix 1: Fortune Global 500 Corporations (and Subsidiaries) Interviewed, by Business Sector	303
	Appendix 2: Other Corporations and Organizations Interviewed	306
	References	308
	General Index	323
	Author Index	332