
Contents

Acknowledgments	xvii
Introduction	xix
How to Get the Most from This Book	xxi
Part 1: FACTS	1
Chapter 1 Facts: The Basics (Victims and Villains)	3
Example 1.1	4
Example 1.2	6
Example 1.3	8
Example 1.4	10
Example 1.5	12
Example 1.6	14
Example 1.7	16
Example 1.8	18
Frequently Asked Questions About the Basics of Using Facts	20
Chapter 2 Facts: Using a Case's Procedural History to Help Your Client	21
Example 2.1	22
Example 2.2	24
Example 2.3	26
Example 2.4	28
Example 2.5	30
Frequently Asked Questions About the Basics of Using Facts	31
Chapter 3 Facts: Advanced Techniques	33
Example 3.1	34
Example 3.2	36
Example 3.3	38
Example 3.4	40
Example 3.5	42
Example 3.6	43
Example 3.7	44
Example 3.8	46
Example 3.9	48
Example 3.10	50
Frequently Asked Questions About Advanced Techniques with Facts	52
Part 2: ARGUMENTS	55
Chapter 4 How to Build Arguments Based on Authorities	59
Example 4.1	60

Example 4.2	62
Example 4.3	64
Example 4.4	66
Example 4.5	68
Example 4.6	70
Example 4.7	72
Example 4.8	74
Frequently Asked Questions About Building Affirmative, Authority-Based Arguments	76
Chapter 5 Countering Your Adversary's Arguments	79
Example 5.1	80
Example 5.2	82
Example 5.3	84
Example 5.4	86
Example 5.5	88
Example 5.6	90
Example 5.7	92
Frequently Asked Questions About Countering an Adversary's Arguments	94
Chapter 6 Applying Facts in Arguments	97
Example 6.1	98
Example 6.2	100
Example 6.3	102
Example 6.4	104
Example 6.5	106
Example 6.6	108
Frequently Asked Questions About Applying Facts in Arguments	110
Chapter 7 Textual Arguments	113
Example 7.1	116
Example 7.2	118
Example 7.3	120
Example 7.4	122
Frequently Asked Questions About Textual Arguments	124
Chapter 8 Arguments Based on Legislative History	125
Example 8.1	126
Example 8.2	128
Example 8.3	130
Example 8.4	132
Frequently Asked Questions About Legislative History	134
Chapter 9 Policy Arguments	135
Example 9.1	136
Example 9.2	138

Example 9.3	139
Example 9.4	140
Example 9.5	142
Example 9.6	144
Frequently Asked Questions About Policy Arguments	146
Chapter 10 Historical Arguments	147
Example 10.1	148
Example 10.2	150
Example 10.3	152
Example 10.4	154
Frequently Asked Questions About Historical Arguments	156
Part 3: OTHER ISSUES RELATING TO BRIEFS	159
Chapter 11 Selecting and Organizing Arguments	161
Example 11.1	163
Example 11.2	164
Example 11.3	166
Example 11.4	168
Example 11.5	170
Example 11.6	172
Frequently Asked Questions About Selecting and Organizing Arguments	174
Chapter 12 Questions Presented	175
Section 12.1 Short, Neutral Questions	177
Section 12.2 Short, Aggressive Questions	181
Section 12.3 The Trend Toward Longer Questions Presented	183
Section 12.4 The Massive, Single-Sentence Question	187
Section 12.5 Multiple Questions	189
Frequently Asked Questions About Questions Presented	191
Chapter 13 Introductions and Summaries of Argument	193
Example 13.1	196
Example 13.2	197
Example 13.3	198
Example 13.4	200
Example 13.5	202
Example 13.6	204
Frequently Asked Questions About Introductions and Summaries of Argument	206
Chapter 14 Motions	209
Example 14.1	210
Example 14.2	212
Example 14.3	214
Example 14.4	216

Example 14.5	218
Example 14.6	220
Example 14.7	222
Frequently Asked Questions About Motions	224
Chapter 15 Specific Types of Appellate Briefs	227
Example 15.1	228
Example 15.2	230
Example 15.3	232
Example 15.4	234
Example 15.5	236
Example 15.6	238
Frequently Asked Questions About Briefs Other Than the “Opening” Brief	240
Part 4: GENERAL WRITING ADVICE	243
Chapter 16 The Writing Side of Legal Writing	245
Tip 1: Write short sentences.	247
Tip 2: Control the number of messages per sentence.	248
Tip 3: Vary sentence structure.	249
Tip 4: Use strong topic sentences that match the contents of the paragraph.	252
Tip 5: Use strong verbs, especially monosyllabic verbs.	253
Tip 6: Use verbs instead of nominalizations.	255
Tip 7: Avoid passive verbs.	256
Tip 8: Place familiar information before unfamiliar information.	256
Tip 9: Place the sentence’s subject and principal verb near the beginning of the sentence.	257
Tip 10: Watch out for ambiguity.	259
Tip 11: Prune your prose.	259
Tip 12: Develop the confidence to break the general principles of style — completely, ruthlessly, and shockingly — if doing so will help your client win.	261
Frequently Asked Questions About Writing Techniques	262
Appendices
Appendix A Karl Llewellyn on Legal Advocacy	265
Appendix B Topic Sentences	271
Appendix C Monosyllabic Verbs	279
Appendix D Attribution of Examples	287
Index	303