

Contents

Citation Information	vii
Notes on Contributors	x
Introduction: Slow journalism: An introduction to a new research paradigm Megan Le Masurier	1
1 On not going too fast with slow journalism Erik Neveu	10
2 Reclaiming slowness in journalism: Critique, complexity and difference Geoffrey Craig	23
3 Lessening the construction of otherness: A slow ethics of journalism Helene Maree Thomas	38
4 The temporal tipping point: Regimentation, representation and reorientation in ethnographic journalism Anne Kirstine Hermann	54
5 When slow news is good news: Book-length journalism's role in extending and enlarging daily news Matthew Ricketson	69
6 Slow journalism in Spain: New magazine startups and the paradigmatic case of Jot Down Alejandro Barranquero Carretero and Garbiñe Jaurrieta Barriain	83
7 Is there a future for slow journalism? The perspective of younger users Nico Drok and Liesbeth Hermans	101
8 Editing, fast and slow Susan L. Greenberg	117
9 Networked news time: How slow—or fast—do publics need news to be? Mike Ananny	130

CONTENTS

10	Multimedia, slow journalism as process, and the possibility of proper time Benjamin Ball	148
11	The Sochi Project: Slow journalism within the transmedia space Renira Rampazzo Gambarato	161
12	Slowing down media coverage on the US–Mexico border: News as sociological critique in Borderland Stuart Davis	178
13	Resiliency in Recovery: Slow journalism as public accountability in post-Katrina New Orleans Jan Lauren Boyles	194
14	Time to engage: De Correspondent's redefinition of journalistic quality Frank Harbers	210
15	"Make every frame count": The practice of slow photojournalism and the work of David Burnett Andrew L. Mendelson and Brian Creech	228
16	The business of slow journalism: Deep storytelling's alternative economies David Dowling	246
17	Slow journalism and the Out of Eden Walk Don Belt and Jeff South	263
	Index	279