

CONTENTS

INTRODUCTION	1
1 Community as an idea: loss and recovery	7
Community between polis and cosmos	12
Modernity and the loss of community	15
Community regained: modernity and its utopias	17
The total community	21
2 Community and society: myths of modernity	28
Community as tradition	31
Community as a moral force	36
Symbolic community and liminality	44
3 Urban community: locality and belonging	50
The Chicago School and after	52
The fragmentation of urban community: global cities, gentrification and the revanchist city	56
Empowering urban communities	63
4 Political community: communitarianism and citizenship	72
Liberal communitarianism	74

Radical pluralism	79
Civic republicanism	81
Governmental communitarianism	87
5 Community and difference: varieties of multiculturalism	92
Traditional multiculturalism	94
Modern multiculturalism	100
Post-multiculturalism	104
Beyond multiculturalism? Recovering the social	106
6 Communities of dissent: the idea of communication communities	111
Critiques of community: Habermas, Touraine and Bauman	113
Community, social movements and the politics of identity	120
Individualism reconsidered	125
7 Postmodern community: community beyond unity	131
Postmodernity and the rediscovery of the self	133
The postmodern theory of community	135
Liminal communities: everyday life, friendship, New Age travellers	141
8 Cosmopolitan community: between the local and the global	149
Community beyond society	151
World community	153
Transnational community	158
9 Virtual community: belonging as communication	167
Technology and the transformation of community	169
Theories of virtual community	173

The political impact of virtual community: gains and losses	181
--	-----

Conclusion: Theorizing community today	186
---	------------

NOTES	196
-------	-----

REFERENCES	202
------------	-----

INDEX	219
-------	-----