

Contents

Tables	vii
Acknowledgments	ix
Preface	xi
Ernst Gehmacher

Part I Introduction

1. Cleavage Structures and Party Systems in East and Central Europe 3
Andrea Römmele
2. Cleavages, Parties, and Voters 19
Kay Lawson

Part II Cleavages and Parties prior to 1989

3. Between Democracy and Authoritarianism in Bulgaria 37
Georgi Karasimeonov
4. Cleavages and Parties prior to 1989 in the Czech Republic 47
Lubomír Brokl
5. Hungarian Cleavages and Parties prior to 1989 61
György G. Márkus
6. Parties, Party Systems, and Cleavages in Poland: 1918–1989 77
Hieronim Kubiak
7. Romania: Cleavages and Parties before 1989 93
Petre Dăculescu

Part III Cleavages and Parties after 1989

8. Past and New Cleavages in Post-Communist Bulgaria 109
Georgi Karasimeonov

9.	Czech Political Parties and Cleavages after 1989 Josef Blahož, Lubomír Brokl, and Zdenka Mansfeldová	123
10.	Cleavages and Parties in Hungary after 1989 György G. Márkus	141
11.	Political Parties and Cleavage Crystallization in Poland, 1989–1993 Jerzy J. Wiatr	159
12.	Romania: Parties and Issues after 1989 Petre Datculescu	169
Part IV How the Voters Respond
13.	How the Voters Respond in Bulgaria Vladimir Shopov	187
14.	How the Voters Respond in the Czech Republic Lubomír Brokl and Zdenka Mansfeldová	203
15.	Cleavages and Spaces of Competition in Hungary János Simon	215
16.	How the Voters Respond: Poland Jacek Raciborski	239
17.	Patterns of Voter Alignments in Present-Day Romania Petre Datculescu	261
	Further Readings	275
	Index	279
	About the Contributors	289