

Contents

Notes on contributors v

Shame and social work: an introduction 1

Liz Frost, Veronika Magyar-Haas, Holger Schoneville and Alessandro Sicora

PART I Theoretical dimensions of shame

1 Making sense of shame theory: a psychosocial structure 19

Liz Frost

2 Sociology of shame: basic theoretical considerations 39

Sighard Neckel

3 Shame as an anthropological, historical and social emotion 55

Veronika Magyar-Haas

PART II Experiences of shame: service user perspectives

4 Poverty as an attack on subjectivity: the case of shame 81

Holger Schoneville

5 Interactions of shame: violence against children in residential care 99

Marie Demant and Friederike Lorenz

6 Emotional labour in social work practice and the production of shame 119

Carsten Schröder

PART III Shame and professionalism: social worker perspectives

7 Shame regulation as organisational control: evoking, containing and diverting shame to create compliance 143

Matthew Gibson

8 Claim, blame, shame: how risk undermines authenticity in social work 163

Mark Hardy

9	Shame, mistakes and reflective practice in social work Alessandro Sicora	187
Index		205