

Detailed Contents

Preface to the Fourth Edition	xv
Prologue	xvii

I. THE BEGINNINGS: AMERICAN LAW IN THE COLONIAL PERIOD

The Skeleton of Colonial Law: The Courts	6
Civil Procedure	24
Land Law	26
Succession at Death	32
Criminal Law	35
Government, Law, and the Economy	44
Commerce and Labor	48
Slavery	54
The Poor Laws	59
Statute and Common Law in the Colonial Period	60
The Legal Profession	63
The Literature of the Law	71

II. FROM THE REVOLUTION TO THE MIDDLE OF THE NINETEENTH CENTURY: 1776-1850

1. The Republic of Bees	77
Revolutionary Ardor	77
Constitutions: Federal and State	86
The Judges	96
The Organization of Courts	110
Civil Procedure	115
The Law of Evidence	123
2. Outposts of the Law: The Frontier and the Civil-Law Fringe	127
The Civil-Law Fringe	137
3. Law and the Economy: 1776-1850	147
Laissez-Faire and Its Limits	147
The Business Corporation	159

4. The Law of Personal Status: Wives, Paupers, and Slaves	173
Marriage and Divorce	173
All in the Family: Women's Rights and Property Rights	180
Adoption	183
Poor Laws and Social Welfare	184
Slavery and African Americans	190
5. An American Law of Property	213
The Land: A National Treasure	213
The Law of Private Land	218
A Cyclical World: The Law of Mortgages	227
Succession: Wills and Trusts	230
Intellectual Property: Patents and Copyrights	236
6. The Law of Commerce and Trade	241
A Federal Question: Admiralty and General Commerce	241
Sale of Goods	245
Bankruptcy and Insolvency	251
Contract	257
7. Crime and Punishment: And a Footnote on Tort	263
Penal Law and Penal Reform	263
Walking the Beat	269
The Substantive Law of Crimes	275
The Crime of Punishment: The American Prison	278
A Footnote on Tort	283
8. The Bar and Its Works	289
The Bar	289
Organization of the Bar	300
Legal Education	303
The Literature of the Law	308

III. AMERICAN LAW TO THE CLOSE OF THE NINETEENTH CENTURY

1. Blood and Gold: Some Main Themes in the Law in the Last Half of the Nineteenth Century	321
The New Era	321
Organic Law	326
State Constitutions	330
The West	345
2. Judges and Courts: 1850–1900	355
The Judges	355
Judicial Organization	367

3. Procedure and Practice: An Age of Reform	373
Mr. Field's Code	373
Appellate Courts	379
Codification and Reform	383
4. The Land and Other Property	391
The Transformation of Land Law	391
The Public Land	393
Property Law and the Dynasts	400
Landlord and Tenant	405
Mortgages	406
The Decline of Dower	408
A Tangle of Titles	409
Intellectual Property: Patents, Copyrights, and Trademarks	411
5. Administrative Law and Regulation of Business	417
The Coming of the Bureaucrats	417
Regulating the Infrastructure: Banks, Insurance, and Railroads	419
Occupational Licensing: And the Pull of Public Health	430
The Great Antitrust Act	437
6. Torts	443
7. The Underdogs: 1850–1900	463
The Dependent Poor	463
Family Law and the Status of Women	471
The Races	482
8. The Law of Corporations	495
Corporation Law: Freedoms and Restraints	495
A Discordant Addendum: The Municipal Corporation	507
9. Commerce, Labor, and Taxation	513
Contract	513
Negotiable Instruments	517
The Law of Sales	520
Usury Laws	522
Insurance	524
Bankruptcy	527
Admiralty	529
Labor and Law	532
Federal Taxation	543
State and Local Tax	545
Death Taxes	548

10. Crime and Punishment	551
The Many Faces of Criminal Law	551
The Statute Law of Crimes	561
Victimless Crimes	564
Crime, Crime Rates, Insanity, the Guilty Mind	571
Punishment and Correction	576
11. The Legal Profession: The Training and Literature of Law	591
The Rise of the Law School	591
The Literature of the Law	605
Legal Periodicals and Casebooks	613
12. The Legal Profession: At Work	617
The Nimble Profession	617
Organization of the Bar	633
Admission to the Bar	637

IV. THE TWENTIETH CENTURY

1. Leviathan Comes of Age	643
Center and Periphery	645
2. The Growth of the Law	661
Welfare	661
The Liability Explosion: Workers' Compensation	663
More Explosions: Tort Law	667
Constitution, Rights, and Civil Liberties in the Twentieth Century	673
First Nations	687
Asian Americans	689
Hispanics	690
The Revolt of Otherness	692
Freedom of Speech	696
Religion and the Law	699
3. Internal Legal Culture in the Twentieth Century: Lawyers, Judges, and Law Books	703
Legal Ethics	706
The Organized Bar	707
Legal Education	709
Legal Literature	711
The Twentieth-Century Bench	718

4. Regulation, Welfare, and the Rise of Environmental Law	729
Land Use	729
Environmental Law and the Environmental Movement	732
Intellectual Property	735
The Welfare-Regulatory State	737
Business Law and the Law of Business	743
5. Crime and Punishment in the Twentieth Century	749
Crimes of the Century	751
Decriminalizing Sex and Vice	753
Defendants' Rights	761
The Death Penalty	764
Crime Waves and the National Response	767
6. Family Law in the Twentieth Century	769
The Law of Divorce	770
Epilogue: A Final Word	779
Bibliographical Essay	783
Index	797