

Contents

1	Introduction	1
1.1	In General.....	1
1.1.1	The Structure of Legal Bases.....	1
1.1.2	The Conundrum of Legal Basis Litigation.....	2
1.1.3	The Pillars of the European Union.....	3
1.2	About This Book.....	5
1.2.1	The Aims of the Book.....	5
1.2.2	Chapter Overview.....	6
	References.....	7
2	Conflicts Between the Union's Different Types of Competences	9
2.1	Introduction.....	9
2.2	Competence Categories.....	10
2.2.1	Double-Classification of Competence Types.....	11
2.2.2	The Development of the 'Centre of Gravity' Theory.....	13
2.2.3	Judicial Review of Competence Conflicts Post-Lisbon.....	16
2.3	Horizontal Competences and the Principle of Lex Specialis Derogat Legi Generali.....	19
2.3.1	Harmonising the Internal Market with Articles 114/115 TFEU: An Antiquated 'One-Fits-It-All' Approach?.....	20
2.3.2	Article 352 TFEU: A Subsidiary Provision.....	27
2.4	Supranational Versus Intergovernmental Competences.....	31
2.4.1	Retained Distinctiveness in the Area of Freedom, Security and Justice.....	32
2.4.2	Safeguarding Member States' Competences?.....	36
2.5	Conclusion.....	45
	References.....	46
3	The Choice of Legal Instrument: A Choice of Legal Basis?	51
3.1	Introduction.....	51
3.2	Legislative Acts: Article 288 TFEU.....	52

3.2.1	The Distinction Between Regulations, Directives, and Decisions	53
3.2.2	The Alignment of Legal Effects	56
3.3	Non-Legislative Acts: Articles 290 and 291 TFEU	58
3.3.1	Delegated Versus Implementing Acts	59
3.3.2	Supplementing Versus Amending Delegation	64
3.3.3	Misuse of Implementing Power	66
3.4	Legislative Versus Non-Legislative Acts	68
3.5	Conclusion	70
	References	71
4	The Choice of Legislative Procedure: A Matter of Institutional Preference?	75
4.1	Introduction	75
4.2	Procedural Differences	76
4.2.1	Voting Requirements	76
4.2.2	The Institutional Balance	78
4.3	Special Versus Ordinary Legislative Procedure	79
4.3.1	Subjective Versus Objective Factors	80
4.3.2	Single Versus Dual Legal Basis	83
4.3.3	The Democracy Maximising Rationale	87
4.4	Legislative Versus Non-Legislative Procedure	90
4.4.1	An Intergovernmental Institutional Balance	91
4.4.2	The Commission's Discretionary Powers Versus Parliamentary Control	92
4.5	Conclusion	95
	References	96
5	The Sui Generis Nature of External Competences	99
5.1	Introduction	99
5.2	International Agreements	100
5.2.1	Classical Versus Cross-Pillar Mixity	101
5.2.2	Turning Mixity Into Exclusivity	104
5.3	The Structure of Legal Bases Under the Area of Common Foreign and Security Policy	110
5.3.1	The Scope and Nature of the Competence	110
5.3.2	Legal Instruments	113
5.3.3	Decision-Making Procedures	114
5.4	Article 40 TEU: From 'One-Way Street' to Non-Affection in Both Directions	117
5.4.1	ECOWAS Revisited	120
5.4.2	The Application of General Criteria of Legal Basis Litigation	123
5.5	The Unity Theory: A Self-Fulfilling Prophecy?	126
5.5.1	Legal Personality	128
5.5.2	Bridging the Gap: The High Representative	128

- 5.6 Conclusion 131
- References..... 132
- 6 Conclusions 137
 - 6.1 General Findings 137
 - 6.1.1 Competence Overlaps 137
 - 6.1.2 Divergent Institutional Preferences 139
 - 6.1.3 General Criteria and Paradoxes of Legal Basis Litigation 139
 - 6.2 Recommendations 142
 - References..... 142