

---

Contents

---

Caveat		vii
Acknowledgements		viii
Chapter 1	Looking forward to a story	1
Chapter 2	Deconstructing and reconstructing child knowledge	15
Chapter 3	Deconstructing the alembic myth	37
Chapter 4	Kidstory: Reconsidering histories of childhood	54
Chapter 5	Telling stories of child concern	70
Chapter 6	Modern times and great dictators: A genealogy of developmentalism	85
Chapter 7	Being had: Biosociology and the production of new children	105
Chapter 8	A minority group: The condition of childhood	123
Chapter 9	Childhood's end – overlords and underlings	141
Chapter 10	Rearing its ugly head: Children and sexuality	162
Chapter 11	On our own doorsteps and beyond our own backyards: Concern about concern	188

Bibliography	198
--------------	-----

Index	215
-------	-----