

Contents

Acknowledgments	v
Preface	xi
 Introduction to library supervision and management
Chapter 1	Overview of library management theory 3
	What is the use of theory? – Early management – A century of management
Chapter 2	Organisational climate and culture and managing change 11
	Organisational climate and culture – Managing change – Conclusion
Chapter 3	Total quality management 19
	Introduction – Quality in management defined – Deming's fourteen points – Customer-driven quality – Continuous improvement – Data collection – Benchmarking – Employee participation – Leadership from senior management – Bringing the two together – Quality rewarded – Conclusion
Chapter 4	Roles of the supervisor and manager 29
	Introduction – Levels of management – Managerial roles – Supervision
 Part 1: General functions of management
Chapter 5	Objectives and policy development 37
	The present situation – Objectives – Policy development – Policy formulation
Chapter 6	Planning 47
	Introduction – Planning – The planning process – Strategic planning – Conclusion

Chapter 7	Organising human resources	55
	Introduction – Traditional forms of organisational structure – Alternative structures – Human resources planning – Conclusion
Chapter 8	Evaluation	61
	Introduction – Libraries and control – Conclusion
Part 2: Supervisory skills
Chapter 9	Communication	69
	Introduction – Communication models – Types of communication – Communication barriers – Listening – Communication in organisations – Supervisor's role in communication – Conclusion
Chapter 10	Leading	87
	Definition – Introduction – Theories of leadership – Delegation – Individual behaviour – Perception – Motivation – Morale – Interpersonal relationships – Conclusion
Chapter 11	Decision-making and problem-solving	101
	Introduction – Decision-making – Problem-solving – Decision matrix – Conclusion
Chapter 12	Team development and maintenance	115
	Introduction – Why teams? – Conclusion
Chapter 13	Conflict resolution	127
	Definition – Approaches to conflict resolution – Negotiation – Conclusion
Part 3: Human resources management
Chapter 14	Introduction to human resources management	135
	Introduction – What is a job?
Chapter 15	Job analysis, design and description	141
	Job analysis – Job description – Person specification – Conclusion
Chapter 16	Recruitment and selection	149
	Introduction – Recruitment – Selection – Conclusion
Chapter 17	Staff development	157
	Introduction – Orientation – In-service training – Training needs and analysis and evaluation of training – Continuing education and career planning – Performance appraisal – Conclusion
Chapter 18	Personal and interpersonal skills	175
	Time management – Meeting skills – Report writing – Stress management – Political qualities and skills

Part 4: Financial management

Chapter 19	Financial management	195
	Introduction – Budgeting – Budgeting methods – Program budgets – Management accounting – Accounting and the library – Conclusion
Appendix 1	Job analysis questionnaire	209
Appendix 2	Job descriptions and person specifications	221
Appendix 3	Advertisements	233
References		237
Index		249