

Contents

Contributors xiii

Foreword xv

I

Overview

1. Empirical methods in the economics of education

GUIDO SCHWERDT AND LUDGER WOESSMANN

Introduction 3

From correlation to causation 3

Explicit randomization 5

Randomized controlled experiments 5

Lotteries of oversubscribed programs 7

Natural experiments 9

Instrumental-variable approach 9

Regression-discontinuity approach 10

Methods using panel data 13

Difference-in-differences approach 13

Fixed-effects approach 15

Conclusions 17

References 17

2. Behavioral economics and nudging in education: evidence from the field

METTE TRIER DAMGAARD AND HELENA SKYT NIELSEN

Behavioral economics of education 21

Self-control 21

Limited attention and cognitive ability 22

Loss aversion 22

Default bias 22

Social preferences 23

Biased beliefs 23

Education interventions involving nudging 23

Defaults 25

Framing 25

Peer group manipulations 26

Deadlines 26

Goal setting 27

Reminders 28

Informational nudges 28

Boosting skills to alleviate self-control problems 30

Social comparison nudges 30

Social belonging, identity activation and mindset nudges 31

Conclusion 32

References 32

Further reading 35

II

Private and social returns to education

3. Returns to education in developed countries

MORLEY GUNDERSON AND PHILIP OREOPOLOUS

Glossary of terms 39

Introduction 39

Estimating returns to education via schooling

equations 40

Basic schooling equation 40

Hourly wages versus measures that include hours of work 41

Measurement error in schooling 42

Ability bias, omitted variables and selection bias 42

Heterogeneous returns 45

Annual returns, signaling, and sheepskin effects 46

Non-pecuniary benefits and social benefits 47

Trends and some international evidence 48

Summary 49

References 49

Further reading 50

4. Returns to education in developing countries

HARRY ANTHONY PATRINOS AND GEORGE PSACHAROPOULOS

- Introduction 53
- Estimation procedures 54
- Global estimates 56
- Low-income countries 56
- Vocational education 57
- Preschool 59
 - Causality 60
 - Cognitive ability 61
- Conclusions and policy considerations 62
- References 62
- Further reading 63

5. Returns to education quality

MARK HOEKSTRA

- Education quality and student outcomes 65
- Assessing the causal returns to education quality 67
- Benefits to attending more selective middle and high schools 68
- Returns to college quality 70
- References 71

6. Heterogeneity in the returns to higher education

IAN WALKER

- Introduction 75
- The economic value of degrees 78
 - Estimating the college premium 79
 - Student choice and heterogeneity in the returns to degrees 83
- Conclusion 89
- References 89

7. Parental education and children's health throughout life

MATHIAS HUEBENER

- Glossary 91
- Introduction 91
- Theoretical considerations 93
 - Immediate effects of education 93
 - Intergenerational effects of education 93
- Insights across children's lifecycle 94

- Prenatal influences and health at birth 94
 - In childhood 95
 - In adolescence 96
 - In adulthood 97
 - In late life 98
- Evidence from developing countries 99
- Implications and outlook 100
- References 101
- Further reading 102

8. Education and civic engagement

T.S. DEE

- The civic returns to educational attainment 103
- Comparisons of public and private schools 105
- Summary and future directions 107
- See also 107
- References 107
- Further reading 108

9. Education and crime

LANCE LOCHNER

- Introduction 109
- The economics of education and crime 109
- Evidence on education, school quality, and crime 110
 - Effects of educational attainment on crime 110
 - Effects of education on female crime 113
 - Effects of school choice and quality on crime 113
 - Contemporaneous schooling and crime 114
 - Brief comment on measures of criminality 115
- The effects of arrest and incarceration on education 115
- Conclusions and policy lessons 116
- References 116

10. Education and inequality

JO BLANDEN

- Introduction 119
- Inequalities in educational outcomes 119
 - Inequalities by social background 119
 - Inequalities by race, ethnicity and immigrant status 122
 - Inequalities by gender 123
- Education and economic outcomes 125
 - Changes over time 128
- Conclusions 130
- References 130

11. Race earnings differentials

M. CARNOY

- Glossary 133
 Race and ethnic earnings differences in the United States 134
 A model for explaining earnings differences 136
 Explaining earnings differences with cross-section data 137
 Earnings differences for minority women 139
 Do ability/educational quality differences explain race/ethnic earnings differences? 140
 What are the sources of the black/white test-score gap? 142
 Explaining changes in earnings differences over time 143
 Comparing results for Brazil and Israel 145
 See also 146
 References 146

12. The economics of high school dropouts

RUSSELL W. RUMBERGER

- Introduction 149
 Who drops out of high school? 149
 What are the consequences? 151
 Why do students drop out? 152
 Individual factors 152
 Institutional factors 153
 What can be done? 155
 Conclusions 157
 References 157
 Further reading 157

III

Production, costs and financing

13. Education production functions

ERIC A. HANUSHEK

- Glossary 161
 Overview 161
 Measuring skills and human capital 161
 Basic production function estimates 163
 Measured school inputs 164
 Study quality 165
 More recent studies 166
 Do teachers and schools matter? 167

- Benefits and costs 168
 Some conclusions and implications 168
 References 169
 Further reading 170

14. Education, knowledge capital, and economic growth

ERIC A. HANUSHEK AND LUDGER WOESSMANN

- Early studies of schooling quantity and economic growth 172
 Early evidence on the quality of education and economic growth 173
 Recent evidence on the importance of cognitive skills for economic growth 174
 Causality in brief 176
 The interaction of educational quality with economic institutions 178
 Simulating the impact of educational reform on economic growth 178
 Summary 180
 References 180

15. Education production functions: updated evidence from developing countries

PAUL GLEWWE, SYLVIE LAMBERT AND QIHUI CHEN

- Introduction 183
 Education in developing countries 183
 The education production function 188
 Estimation of education production functions 194
 Evidence of policy impacts from developing countries 196
 Demand-side interventions 196
 Supply-side policies 203
 Conclusions and suggestions for future research 210
 References 211

16. Schooling inputs and behavioral responses by families

BIRGITTA RABE

- Introduction 217
 Conceptual framework: education production and input interactions 218
 Extensions 219
 Methodological approaches to estimation 220
 Empirical findings 221

- Factors driving heterogeneous results 223
 Multiple inputs and agents 224
 Test score impacts 225
 Conclusions 225
 References 226
17. The economics of early childhood interventions
 M. NORES
 The economic rationale 229
 Market failures 230
 Equity and redistribution 230
 Human capital formation 231
 Types of early childhood interventions 231
 Cognitive and academic outcomes 233
 Noncognitive outcomes 234
 Indirect effects: female labor supply 235
 Economic returns 236
 Conclusions 236
 See also 236
 References 237
 Further reading 238
18. Parental socioeconomic status, child health, and human capital
 J. CURRIE AND J. GOODMAN
 Glossary 239
 Introduction 239
 Does parental socioeconomic status affect child health? 240
 External benefits of parental SES 240
 Evidence 240
 Does child health affect future outcomes? 242
 Possible channels 242
 Evidence 243
 Can health account for gaps in Children's educational outcomes? 247
 See also 247
 References 247
 Further reading 248
19. Monetary and non-monetary incentives for educational attainment: design and effectiveness
 H. SCHILDBERG-HÖRISCH AND V. WAGNER
 Introduction 249
 Monetary incentives 250
 Sensitivity to cash size 250
 Who should be rewarded? 252
 Non-monetary incentives 253
 Types of non-monetary incentives 253
 Selection of non-monetary incentives 254
 Effectiveness of non-monetary incentives 257
 Non-monetary incentives for students 257
 Non-monetary incentives for parents and teachers 263
 Discussion and conclusion 264
 Acknowledgments 266
 References 266
 Further reading 268
20. Educational mismatch in developing countries: A review of the existing evidence
 H. BATTU AND K.A. BENDER
 Introduction 269
 Measurement issues 271
 General findings 272
 The degree of mismatch 273
 Rates of overeducation and undereducation 273
 Brazil 273
 Russia (and post-communist transition economies) 273
 India 274
 China 274
 Low-income countries 276
 Explanations for mismatch 277
 Introduction 277
 Informality 278
 Quality of education 280
 Other factors 281
 Consequences of mismatch 282
 Brazil 282
 Russia and post-communist countries 282
 India 283
 China 283
 Low-income countries 283

Policy, conclusions and reflection 284
References 285

21. Peer effects in education: recent empirical evidence

ALFREDO R. PALOYO

Introduction 291
Recent empirical evidence 293
 Deliberate random assignment 293
 Regression-discontinuity design 295
 Instrumental variable 297
 Fixed effect 298
 Variance restriction 300
 Nonlinearity and heterogeneity 300
Conclusion 302
References 303

22. The role of teacher quality in education production

BJARNE STRØM AND TORBERG FALCH

Introduction 307
Estimating teacher quality 307
 The value added approach 308
 The between subject approach 310
What explains teacher quality variation? 311
 Individual teacher characteristics 311
 Teacher labor market variables 313
Use of teacher quality measures in pay and evaluation systems 315
Summary and the way forward 316
References 317

23. The economics of class size

D.W. SCHANZENBACH

Introduction 321
Why class size might matter 321
Empirical approaches to studying the impact of class size 322
Nonexperimental research 322
Experimental research 323
Checks for randomization 325
Achievement results 326
Additional caveats 328
Quasi-experimental research 329
Policy-induced variation 329
Discussion 330

See also 330
References 330
Further reading 331

24. School finance: an overview

JENNIFER KING RICE, DAVID MONK AND JIJUN ZHANG

Introduction 333
School finance in context 333
 Raising revenue: multiple and evolving roles 335
Distributing resources: multiple and competing goals 337
 Mechanisms for distributing revenue across school districts 337
 Challenges to state funding systems 338
Utilization of resources: current policy issues for school finance 340
 Teacher compensation 340
 Expanding the scope of educational services 341
References 341

25. The economics of tuition and fees in American higher education

R.G. EHRENBERG

Glossary 345
Introduction 345
Tuition keeps rising in private higher education 347
Tuition keeps rising at public institutions 349
Graduate and professional program tuition and fees 350
Concluding remarks 351
References 351
Further reading 352

IV

Teacher labour markets

26. Teacher labor markets: An overview

JESSALYNN JAMES AND JAMES WYCKOFF

Introduction 355
Constrained teacher labor markets 356
Methodological challenges 359
Recruiting effective teachers 360
Retaining effective teachers 363
Developing an effective teacher workforce 365
Looking forward 366
References 366

27. Teachers in developing countries

PAUL GLEWWE, RONGJIA SHEN, BIXUAN SUN AND SUZANNE WISNIEWSKI

- Introduction to review of literature on teachers in developing countries 371
- Methods for literature selection and categorization 372
- Analysis of teacher interventions that increase time in school 372
 - Impacts of teacher inputs on time in school 372
 - Impacts of pedagogy interventions on time in school 373
 - Impacts of teacher-related governance interventions on time in school 373
- Analysis of teacher interventions that improve learning outcomes 374
 - Impacts of teacher inputs on learning 374
 - Impacts of pedagogy interventions on learning 378
 - Impacts of teacher-related governance interventions on learning 381
- Analysis of interventions that improve teacher outcomes 383
 - School input interventions 384
 - Pedagogy interventions 384
 - Governance interventions 384
- Conclusion 386
- References 387

28. Teacher supply

PETER DOLTON

- The labor market for teachers 391
- The demand for teachers 394
 - The supply of teachers 396
 - Teachers' pay 399
- Summary 401
- References 402
- Further reading 402

29. Economic approaches to teacher recruitment and retention

S. LOEB AND J. MYUNG

- Introduction 403
- The supply of teachers 404
- Wages 404
- Working conditions 404
- Psychic benefits and costs 405
- School location 405

- Barriers to entry 406
- The demand for teachers 406
- Student enrollment and teacher retirement 406
- Reduction in student-to-teacher ratios 407
- Hiring processes 407
- Institutional constraints 407
- Recruitment and retention policies to date 408
- Partnerships between districts and local colleges 408
- Monetary incentives 408
- Changes in entry requirements 409
- Teacher induction and mentoring 409
- Performance-based pay 410
- Career differentiation through ladders 410
- Improving hiring practices 411
- Reform of due process 411
- Conclusion 412
- See Also 412
- References 412
- Further reading 414

30. Compensating differentials in teacher labor markets

LI FENG

- Compensating wage differentials through empirical studies using hedonic wage regression 417
 - Method 417
 - Data 417
 - Findings 417
- Compensating wage differentials through empirical studies of teacher attrition and retention 423
- Compensating wage differentials using policy interventions 423
 - Quasi-experimental evidence 424
 - Random assignment evidence 428
 - Findings and future directions 428
 - References 428

31. Teacher incentives 431

L. SANTIBAÑEZ

- Background on incentive programs 432
- Advantages of incentive programs 432
- Individual incentives Efficiency and productivity 432
 - Recruitment and retention of qualified teachers 435
- Group incentives Efficiency and productivity 435
- Summary of key findings 436
- Disadvantages and criticisms 436

- Adverse and unintended consequences of teacher incentive programs 439
 Conclusions 439
 See also 440
 References 440
 Further reading 441

V

Education markets, choice and incentives

32. The economic role of the state in education

D.N. PLANK AND T.E. DAVIS

- Glossary 445
 Constructing education systems 446
 Economics and the State's role 446
 Is education a public good? 446
 Market failure in the market for education 447
 Externalities 447
 Information asymmetry 448
 Uncertainty and risk aversion 449
 Economies of scale 449
 Equity and equal opportunity 449
 Critique of state provision 450
 Public choice and government failure 450
 Inefficiency in production 450
 Inequity in opportunities and outcomes 451
 Standardization and enforced mediocrity 451
 Rent-seeking and corruption 451
 A role for the state? 451
 Education and the shrinking state 452
 See also 453
 References 453

33. Quasi-markets in education: the case of England

STEVE BRADLEY

- Introduction 455
 How could markets in education operate? 457
 Alternative approaches 457
 Quasi-markets in England 458
 Evaluating the effects of Quasi-markets on educational outcomes 462
 The effects of complementary and contradictory educational policies 465

- Conclusions and future research 467
 References 468

34. Tiebout sorting and competition

THOMAS J. NECHYBA

- Residential mobility, capitalization and household preferences for education 472
 Tiebout sorting and the rationing of school inputs 472
 Tiebout competition to enhance productive efficiency 475
 A partial divorce between competition and tiebout 476
 Conclusion 477
 References 478

35. Economic approaches to school efficiency

GERAINT JOHNES

- Introduction 479
 Models of efficiency 480
 Data envelopment analysis 480
 Stochastic frontier analysis 482
 More advanced models 483
 Non-parametric models 483
 Parametric models 486
 Conclusions 487
 References 487

36. School competition and the quality of education

FRANCESCA FOLIANO AND OLMO SILVA

- Glossary 491
 Introduction 491
 Empirical evidence 496
 England 496
 US 499
 Sweden 501
 Chile 503
 Conclusions 504
 References 505

37. The economics of catholic schools

W. SANDER AND D. COHEN-ZADA

- Glossary 509
 Introduction 509
 Overview 509
 History and enrollment 509

- Teachers 510
 - Students 510
 - Location 510
 - Tuition and costs 511
 - Market served 511
 - School practices 511
 - Vouchers 511
 - Catholic schools in other countries 511
 - Demand 512
 - Effects 513
 - Academic achievement and educational attainment 513
 - Bad behavior 514
 - Civic participation and altruism 515
 - Economic effects 515
 - Other effects 515
 - The effect of catholic school attendance in other countries 515
 - Conclusions 516
 - See also 516
 - References 516
 - Further reading 517
38. Private schools: choice and effects
- FRANCIS GREEN
- Introduction 519
 - Theory 520
 - Evidence on choice 522
 - Evidence on effects 524
 - Methods 524
 - Findings 526
 - Conclusion 527
 - References 528
39. The economics of charter schools
- ADAM KHO, RON ZIMMER AND RICHARD BUDDIN
- Glossary 531
 - Introduction 531
 - Policy questions 532
 - What types of students do charter schools serve? 532
 - Are charter and traditional schools receiving comparable funding? 534
 - How do charter schools affect the performance of charter students? 535
 - Is charter school competition improving the performance of traditional public schools? 538
- Conclusion 539
 - References 540
40. The economics of vocational training
- SAMUEL MUEHLEMANN AND STEFAN C. WOLTER
- Introduction 543
 - Costs and benefits of training investments for firms 544
 - Why firms pay for general training 544
 - Costs and benefits of apprenticeship training 545
 - Cross-country comparisons 546
 - Benefits of apprenticeships for individuals 548
 - Fiscal returns to apprenticeship training 552
 - Conclusions 553
 - References 553
41. Student incentives
- ERIC R. EIDE AND MARK H. SHOWALTER
- Introduction 555
 - Student incentives in K-12 education 555
 - Financial incentives 555
 - Non-financial or mixed incentives 556
 - Incentives in developing countries 557
 - Teacher incentives in K-12 education 559
 - Individual teacher incentives 559
 - Group incentives for teachers 560
 - Teacher-student aligned incentives 561
 - Higher education incentives 561
 - Scholarships, grants, and cash awards 561
 - Student loans 562
 - Conclusion 563
 - References 563
 - Further reading 564
42. The economics of school accountability
- D.N. FIGLIO AND H.F. LADD
- Glossary 567
 - The rationale for school-based accountability 568
 - Designing school accountability systems 569
 - The evidence on student achievement 571
 - Evidence on unintended consequences 572
 - References 573
 - Further reading 575
- Index 577