

Contents

Introduction	FORCE, DRIVE, DESIRE	3
Part I. The Drive Dynamic
1	Aristotle (and Heidegger) on Natural Movement and the Drive Force of Living Beings	19
2	The Metaphysics of Drive and Desire in Leibniz	47
3	Schopenhauer on the Drives of Bodies and the Ambiguities of Human Desire	87
4	The Three Stages of Freud's Drive Theory and Lacan's Amendments	137
Part II. Drives and Subjectivity
5	Husserl on the Pleasures of a Bodily and Drive-Based Subject	229
6	The Freudian Subject	255
7	Schopenhauer, Nietzsche, and Lacan on a Drive Subject Sublimated by the Encounter with Art	301
Abbreviations		333
Notes		337
Index		387