

CONTENTS

Preface to the Revised Edition	ix
Abbreviations	xi
Introduction	1
I. Prolegomena: Defining the Object of Study	7
1. Sources for the Study of Israelite Prophecy	7
2. Modern Critical Study of Prophecy	16
3. Labels and Roles	26
4. The Social Location of the Prophet	30
II. From the Beginnings to Amos	40
5. Prophecy in the Near East and the Problem of Origins	40
6. War Prophets and "Primitives" in the Early Period	48
7. Prophecy in the Northern Kingdom: Elijah and Elisha	55
III. The Period of Assyrian Expansion	65
8. The International Situation	65
9. Amos	72
10. Hosea	82
11. Micah	91
12. Isaiah of Jerusalem	97
IV. The End of National Independence	111
13. The Last Attempt at Emancipation and Reform	111
14. The Perspective of Cult Prophecy on International Affairs: Nahum and Habakkuk	121
15. Jeremiah	129

V. Between the Old Order and the New	148
16. Prophecy in Crisis	148
17. The Exilic-Deuteronomic Response	161
18. Ezekiel	165
19. Exilic Prophecy in the Isaian Tradition	181
VI. Prophets and Prophecy in the Second Commonwealth	194
20. Judean Prophecy in the Early Persian Period	194
21. From Prophecy to Apocalyptic: Further Developments in the Isaian Tradition	212
22. Jerusalem Temple Prophecy	222
23. The Eschatological Reinterpretation of Prophecy	226
24. Jonah	240
Notes	247
Index of Ancient Sources	281