

Contents

Acknowledgements	vii
Preface	viii
1. Dyslexia and dyscalculia	1
Section A: Success in mathematics	1
Section B: Dyslexia	2
Section C: Dyscalculia	3
2. Factors affecting learning	8
Section A: Specific difficulties	8
Section B: Thinking and learning styles	12
3. The language of mathematics	15
Section A: Reading difficulties	15
Section B: Word problems	16
Section C: Spelling in mathematics	21
Section D: Writing in mathematics	23
4. Assessment, intervention strategies and teaching	26
Section A: Assessment	26
Section B: Intervention strategies	29
Section C: Intervention teaching	33
Case study: Simon (aged 10)	40
5. Early numeracy skills	44
Section A: Early numeracy	44
Section B: Maths symbols	56
Section C: Basic number skills	59
6. Developing number skills	64
Section A: Times tables	64
Section B: Fractions	71
Section C: Decimal fractions	73
Section D: Percentages	74
Section E: Estimation and approximation	77
Section F: Money	82
Section G: Time	83
7. Calculating	93
Section A: New topics	93
Section B: Basic computation	94

8. Algebra	103
Section A: Overview of the topic	103
Section B: Directed numbers (positive and negative numbers)	104
Section C: A practical approach	106
Section D: Equations	108
Section E: Investigations	108
Section F: Straight-line graphs	111
Answers to investigations	113
9. Shape, space and measures	114
Section A: Overview	114
Section B: Use of practical equipment	114
Section C: Specific issues with shape, space and measures	116
Section D: Properties of angles and shapes	118
Section E: Co-ordinates	125
Section F: Rotational symmetry	126
Section G: Direction and bearings	126
Section H: The Pythagorean theorem	126
Section I: Trigonometry	128
10. Handling data	129
Section A: Graphical representation	129
Section B: Probability	133
Section C: Averages	138
Section D: Mode, median, mean and range	138
11. Dyslexia, dyscalculia and technology	139
Computer technology	139
Learning differences	139
Appendix: memory cards	141
References and suggested reading	145
Useful contacts and addresses	147
Index	149