

Table of Contents

- 10 Models of Shared Living:
Context and Overview
- 15 Transitions between Public and Private
- 19 Motives that Drive Shared Living

	Sharing Based on Economic Intentions	294	Extending Individuality
26	Efficiency and Rationalization: Sharing Based on Economic Intentions	302	Four Levels of Action: A Perspective
28	Changing Organizational Structures of Living	308	Index
	Kathleen Scanlon	312	Bibliography
34	The Economics of Shared Housing	318	Biographies
41	The Large Housing Complexes of the Utopian Socialists	320	Acknowledgments
56	Men's and Women's Hostels and Boarding Houses for Urban Nomads
81	Central-Kitchen Houses as a Model of Reform
102	Excursus: Collective Housing in the Soviet Union
	Sharing Based on Political Intentions
112	Progress and Stability: Sharing Based on Political Intentions
114	The Diversity of Collective Living Spaces and Options for Use
	Dr. habil Angelus Eisinger
117	The City and Collective Living: An Attempt at Rapprochement in a Conflicted Relationship
123	Garden Cities and Courtyard Apartment Buildings: Visions of Social Reform
144	Community Settlements as Staged Neighborhoods
164	Cooperative Living and the Opening of Living Spaces
187	Excursus: Collective Housing in the German Democratic Republic
	Sharing Based on Social Intentions
192	Sufficiency and Participation: Sharing Based on Social Intentions
195	Changing Living Spaces Due to Changing Lifestyles
	Prof. Dr. Ingrid Breckner
200	Differentiation Processes in European Housing Markets in the 21 st Century
205	Housing and Culture Projects as an Expression of Community
232	Community Households and Cluster Apartments with Services
272	Co-Living as Interconnected and Decentralized Housing
289	Excursus: Communal Households and Squatting		