

Contents

Prefaces	VII
1 Introduction	1
1.1 What is literature?	4
1.2 Literary criticism	10
1.3 Literary history	14
1.4 Bibliography	18
2 Poetry	21
2.1 What are poetic texts and what do we (ab)use them for?	22
2.2 Communication, speaker, situation and topic	26
2.3 Rhetorical form	30
2.4 Poetic form	45
2.4.1 Metre and rhythm	45
2.4.2 Phonological forms, stanzas and types of poems	50
2.5 Postmodern poetry	57
2.6 Guiding questions and exercises	58
2.7 Bibliography	62
3 Narrative	65
3.1 Oral and written narratives	66
3.2 Discourse	69
3.2.1 Narrative situations	70
3.2.2 Voice and focalisation	77
3.2.3 Time	87
3.3 Story	90
3.4 Fiction and metafiction	98
3.5 Guiding questions and exercises	102
3.6 Bibliography	108
4 Drama	113
4.1 Dramatic text and theatrical performance	114
4.2 Dramatic speech	118
4.3 Character and action	127

4.4	Space and time	135
4.5	Genres and metadrama	141
4.6	Guiding questions and exercises	146
4.7	Bibliography	153
5	Literary Theory	157
5.1	The Author	161
5.1.1	Psychoanalysis	163
5.2	Text and code	169
5.2.1	New Criticism	169
5.2.2	Formalism, structuralism and semiotics	171
5.2.3	Deconstructivism, post-structuralism and postmodernism	176
5.3	Context	181
5.3.1	Marxism and cultural materialism	181
5.3.2	New Historicism	187
5.3.3	Feminism and gender studies	190
5.3.4	Postcolonialism and multiculturalism	195
5.4	Reader	201
5.5	Bibliography	207
6	Research papers, presentations and examinations	213
6.1	Academic standards	214
6.2	Getting organised	214
6.3	Writing a term paper	215
6.3.1	Defining topic, purpose and approach	215
6.3.2	Research for and use of secondary material	220
6.3.3	Writing the first draft	228
6.3.4	Revising the paper	229
6.3.5	Documentation	232
6.4	Presentation	234
6.5	Oral and written examinations	238
6.6	Bibliography	240
7	Appendix	247
7.1	Analyses	248
7.2	Index	254
7.3	Acknowledgements	264