

Contents

---

Acknowledgements	ix
List of abbreviations	xi
1 Introduction to Neoliberal Social Justice	1
PART I WHY INSTITUTIONS MATTER IN IDEAL THEORY
2 Ideal theory and the basic structure	21
3 Knowledge, not incentives	36
PART II DISTRIBUTIVE JUSTICE AND THE KNOWLEDGE PROBLEM
4 Rawls' neoclassical economics	48
5 The burdens of knowledge	59
6 Why capitalism	70
7 Why not market socialism	78
8 Why not economic democracy	86
PART III DISTRIBUTIVE JUSTICE AND THE INCENTIVE PROBLEM
9 Fairness failure	94
10 The constitutional point of view	110
11 The robust case for behavioural symmetry	123
PART IV DISTRIBUTIVE JUSTICE AND ECONOMIC LIBERTY
12 Basic economic liberties and the moral powers	134

13	The subjective and objective conditions of the circumstances of justice	144
14	Developing moral capacities	156
PART V ROBUST PROPERTY-OWNING DEMOCRACY
15	Defining property-owning democracy	172
16	The robustness critique of property-owning democracy	186
17	The case for a robust property-owning democracy	196
18	Conclusion to Neoliberal Social Justice	216
Index		229