

CONTENTS

Acknowledgments	7
Introduction	9
Note on sources and secondary literature	27
1. Peculiar institution? The phenomenon of modern slavery	36
1.1. Slavery: Attempt of a preliminary definition	36
1.2. Notions of slavery in Antiquity and the Middle Ages	49
1.3. Renovation of slavery at the outset of the Modern Era	64
2. Yearning for wealth and power: Colonial slavery as an economic institution	77
2.1. The colonial enterprise	77
2.2. "Those valuable People"	89
2.3. Greed and diligence	111
3. Yearning for order and stability: Colonial slavery as a social institution	125
3.1. Uneasy transfer to modernity	125
3.2. Order and hierarchy	135
3.3. Many faces of liberty	144
4. The perfect tool? The image of "the Negro" within American colonization projects	160
4.1. Stereotypes of Africa	160
4.2. Preordained to work	179
4.3. Strangers within	188
5. African slavery in the New World as a means of social-religious reform	200
5.1. Missionaries and slavery	200
5.2. The Society of Jesus	209
The Capuchin case	221
5.3. The Moravian Church	225
Conclusion: The end of slaving utopias	237
Bibliography	246