

Detailed table of contents

Walk-through guide to the educational features of this book	xviii
Guide to the online resources	xx
Table of cases	xxi
Table of legislation	lii
Table of statutes	lii
Table of statutory instruments	lx
Table of EU legislation	lxii
Table of legislation from other jurisdictions	lxviii
Table of international treaties and conventions	lxviii
List of figures	lxxii
Abbreviations	lxxiv

Part I Introduction

1

1 Intellectual property law: an introduction	2
Introduction	2
What is intellectual property law?	3
What is intellectual property?	5
Developing intellectual property law	14
Further reading	27

Part II Copyright

29

2 Copyright 1: history, rationale, and policy context	31
Introduction	31
Early history	32
International developments	34
European developments	37
Copyright framework in the UK—European and international influences	39
Rationale of copyright	42
Policy context	44
Further reading	49
3 Copyright 2: subject matter, first ownership, and term	51
Introduction	51
Subject matter	52
Author works	72
Media works	90
First ownership	93
Duration of copyright	106
Further reading	113
4 Copyright 3: economic rights and infringement	115
Introduction	115
International and European developments	116
Economic rights in general	118
Economic rights and primary infringements: general principles	119
Restricted acts and primary infringement: detail	126
Authorisation of infringement	154
Secondary infringement of copyright	161
Further reading	162

5	Copyright 4: exceptions and limitations	164
	Introduction	164
	The public domain and copyright exceptions in general	165
	International and European developments	166
	Copyright exceptions in the UK	169
	Other limitations on copyright	197
	Contracting out of the exceptions?	201
	Further reading	203
6	Copyright 5: authors' rights, and exploitation of copyright	204
	Introduction	204
	Author's moral rights	205
	Artist's resale right	216
	Exploitation of copyright	219
	Copyright contract practices: authors' weak bargaining position	221
	Collective licensing	225
	Further licensing issues	227
	Technical protection measures and rights management information systems	231
	Further reading	236
7	Rights akin to copyright: database rights and performers' rights	238
	Introduction	238
	Sui generis database right	239
	Performers' rights	251
	Further reading	263

Part III Design protection

265

8	Registered designs	267
	Introduction	267
	The international background	268
	Development of UK and EU law	270
	Designs that can be validly protected by registration	273
	Complex products	304
	Spare parts	307
	Ownership of and dealings in UK and Community registered designs	310
	Invalidation	312
	Rights given by registration, infringement, defences, and duration of rights	316
	Interaction with other IP rights	320
	Further reading	322
9	Unregistered designs	324
	Introduction	324
	International context	325
	Historical background to UK UDR	326
	UK UDR: what is a 'design'?	327
	Exclusions from protection in UK UDR	333
	Original and not 'commonplace'	340
	Duration	343
	Rights in UK UDR	347
	Interaction with copyright	352
	Community UDR	357
	Further reading	361

Part IV Patents

363

10	Patent regimes and the application process	364
	Introduction	364
	Patent regimes: past and present	365
	Rationales of patent protection	369
	The European dimension	372
	The international dimension	377
	Further reform: patent regimes in the future	388
	Patent procedures	390
	Further reading	400
11	Patentability	401
	Introduction	401
	Protectable subject matter	402
	Excluded subject matter	429
	Further reading	483
12	The power of a patent	485
	Introduction	485
	Patent rights and their limits	486
	Infringement proceedings	495
	Revocation	509
	Defences	515
	Exploitation	518
	Further reading	522

Part V Registered trade marks

523

13	Trade marks I: key features, theoretical underpinnings, and the national, EU, and international regimes	525
	Introduction	525
	Registered trade marks—key features	526
	Registered trade marks—theoretical underpinnings	527
	The regulatory framework	531
	Further reading	544
14	Trade marks 2: definition of a registrable trade mark, absolute grounds for refusal and invalidation, and revocation	546
	Introduction	546
	The definition of a registrable trade mark	548
	The specification of goods and services	558
	Non-distinctive, descriptive, and customary marks	560
	Distinctiveness through use (acquired distinctiveness)	573
	Exclusion from registration of certain shapes and signs consisting of 'other characteristics'	578
	Public policy and morality	587
	Deceptive marks	590
	Marks prohibited by law, protected emblems, and geographical indications	591
	Bad faith	591
	Revocation	594
	Further reading	601

15 Trade marks 3: relative ground for refusal and invalidation, infringement, and defences	603
Introduction	603
Approaching the relative grounds for refusal and the grounds for infringement	604
‘Use’ of a trade mark for the purposes of infringement	605
‘Double identity’ cases	610
‘Likelihood of confusion’ cases	619
Marks with a reputation	630
The principal defences to infringement	641
Further reading	648

Part VI Common law protection of intellectual property 651

16 Passing off	653
Introduction	653
Overview of passing off	654
Definitions	656
Goodwill	659
Misrepresentation	672
Damage	686
Defences	688
The internet, passing off, and instruments of fraud	689
Unfair competition and passing off	693
Further reading	695
17 Breach of confidence	697
Introduction	697
Overview	698
Elements of action	702
Parties to action	718
Confidence and IP	719
Secrecy and innovation	720
IP and other information regulation	722
International perspectives and approaches	723
Conclusions and the future	724
Further reading	724
18 Control of information, reputation, and intellectual property	726
Introduction	726
How it works in practice—some important examples	728
Personal privacy	729
Merchandising	738
Endorsement and sponsorship	744
Control of (public) image	747
Conclusions	748
Further reading	748

Part VII Intellectual property, free movement of goods, and competition law in Europe 751

19 Free movement of goods and intellectual property rights	752
Introduction	752
Tensions between the aims of the common market and intellectual property	753

Free movement of goods: case law development	755
Legitimate reasons for using a trade mark to prevent further dealing	762
International exhaustion: theory and related issues	769
Free movement of services	775
Exhaustion of rights and digital content	776
Further reading	781
20 EU competition law and intellectual property	782
Introduction	782
Theory of competition	783
Competition law and IP	785
Intellectual property and agreements between undertakings: Article 101 TFEU	787
International property and abuse of a dominant position: Article 102 TFEU	798
Commission v Microsoft	803
EU competition in the UK courts: Eurodefences and limits on remedies	808
Collective licensing and EU competition law	812
Further reading	817
 Part VIII IP enforcement and remedies	819
21 IP enforcement and remedies	820
Introduction	820
Suspected infringements: unjustified threats	821
Remedies and recovery of evidence	830
Criminal enforcement	852
TRIPS and IP enforcement	858
Further reading	861
Index	863