

Contents

1 If Only It Was a Different Polity: Introduction to the Book	1
1.1 Legitimation in the European Union: Subject and Argument of the Book	2
1.2 The EU's Legitimacy Deficit: Situating the Book in Scholarly Debate	7
1.3 The Book's Interdisciplinary Endeavour: Four Conceptual Moves	15
1.4 From Theoretical to Empirical Exploration: The Plan of the Book	21
References	25
2 Advancing the Linguistic Turn: Premises of Conceptual Work	35
2.1 The Linguistic Turn in European Integration Studies	36
2.2 Reconsidering the Linguistic Turn in Social Studies	43
2.3 Critical Discourse Analysis: The Epistemological Entry Point	59
2.4 Analytical Strategy: The Book's Interdisciplinary Approach	71
References	91

3	Discursive Legitimation: Polity Construction	103
3.1	Legitimation in Language Use	106
3.2	Legitimation and the Construction of Political Authority	117
3.3	Legitimation and the Construction of Political Association	132
3.4	Narratives of European Integration as Polity-Constructing Plots	142
3.5	Narratives of Polity-Building in Poland and France	153
3.6	Studying Discursive Legitimation: Summary	163
	References	169
4	Discursive Europeanisation: Recontextualisation	179
4.1	Recontextualisation in Generic Language Use	182
4.2	Genre, Code, Field: Towards the Notion of Discourse Field	189
4.3	The Discursive Constitution of News Journalism	205
4.4	The Discourse Field of Europeanised National News	218
4.5	The Discourse Field of Multilateral Negotiation	232
4.6	Studying Discursive Europeanisation: Summary	243
	References	252
5	The Constitution Process in the Discourse Field of Multilateral Negotiation	261
5.1	Constitution Speak and Polity Construction in Intertextual Context	263
5.2	Supranational and Intergovernmental Dynamics	278
5.3	The Constitution Process in Poland and France	288
5.4	Revisiting the Constitution Process Through the Lens of the Discourse Field: Summary	304
	References	317

6	Recontextualising the Constitutional Agenda in Media Debates in Poland and France	323
6.1	Recontextualising Topics of EU Institutional Reform	328
6.2	Generating Salience: Converging Coverage, Diverging Debate	340
6.3	Generating Consonance: Intertextuality and Plausibilisation	350
6.4	The Discourse Field of Europeanised National News Revisited: Summary	377
	References	386
7	Constructing the Polity Nexus: Legitimation in Media Debates in Poland and France	389
7.1	Polity Topics: From Functioning Institutions to Legitimate Political Association	391
7.2	Polity Duplicatis : Communitarian Rationales in Ritualised EU Commentary	398
7.3	Polity Instrumentalis : Polity Construction in Struggles About the Draft Constitution	409
7.4	(De-)legitimising the EU in National Media Debates: Summary	435
	References	446
8	Towards a Discursive Political Sociology of European Integration: Conclusions	449
8.1	Beyond the 'Deficits': Challenging Conventional Wisdoms on Europeanised Political Communication	451
8.2	Recontextualising Polity Construction: How the EU Is (De-)legitimised	462
8.3	Discourse Fields and Discursive Europeanisation	479
8.4	Towards a Discursive Political Sociology of European Integration	491
	References	504

Appendix A: Samples and Subsamples	509
Appendix B: Constitution Topics in Evaluative Articles	511
Appendix C: Polity Topics in Evaluative Articles	513
Appendix D: Laeken Declaration	515
Appendix E: Introductory Speech by President Valéry Giscard d'Estaing to the Convention on the Future of Europe	523
Index	533