

CONTENTS

Contributors vii

Preface xi

Acknowledgements xiii

SECTION I PROFESSIONAL ISSUES IN CLINICAL REFLEXOLOGY I

1. The physiological basis of reflexology 3
Denise Tiran
2. The psychological basis for therapeutic outcomes of reflexology 15
Peter Mackereth
3. Educational developments 29
Beverly Newbury and Peter Mackereth
4. Ethical, legal and professional principles 41
Julie Stone
5. Reflection in reflexology practice through the use of narrative 53
Christopher Johns
6. Reflexology: expanding the evidence 63
Helen Poole and Peter Mackereth
7. Revisiting the 'rules' of reflexology 81
Denise Tiran

SECTION II APPLICATIONS IN CLINICAL PRACTICE 97

8. Infertility 99
Denise Tiran
9. Pregnancy and childbirth 115
Denise Tiran
10. Teaching parents to use reflexology 131
Liz Tipping

11. Adapted Reflexotherapy for pain – an alternative physiotherapy approach	145
Gunnel Berry
12. Adapting reflexology for cancer care	159
Peter Mackereth and Anita Mehrez
13. Reflexology and withdrawal from addictive substances: a focus on smoking cessation	171
Paula Maycock and Peter Mackereth
14. Reflexology incorporating new techniques	183
Jill Norfolk, Jan Williamson and Denise Tiran
Index	197