

Contents

List of Figures and Tables	viii
Acknowledgments	ix
1 Introduction	1
2 Political Discourse in the US	7
2.1 Political discourse and rhetoric: from classical oratory to contemporary speech-making	7
2.2 Speech-making as a form of political campaign communication	20
2.3 Political discourse as a battleground for competing worldviews	34
3 Cognition and Politics	40
3.1 Exploring the cognitive links between metaphor, morality and politics	41
3.1.1 Lakoff's family-based models of political morality	47
3.1.2 A critical look at Lakoff's models	57
3.2 Conceptual metaphors in political discourse: an overview	63
3.3 Linguistic applications of Lakoff's metaphorical morality models	75
3.4 A new procedure for applying Lakoff's models to the analysis of American political language	92
4 Methodology and Introduction to the Analysis	101
4.1 Corpus selection and implementation of hypotheses	101
4.2 Obama's election campaign as a narrative space	110
5 The Expression of Values in Obama's Speeches	114
5.1 General results	114
5.2 Neutral paragraphs	117
5.2.1 Marking a temporal sequence	117
5.2.2 Criticizing adversaries	120
5.2.3 Communicating key notions	123
5.2.4 Expressing patriotism	125
5.2.5 Asking for commitment	129
5.2.6 Showing closeness to people	131
5.2.7 Introducing a topic	134
5.2.8 Concluding remarks on neutral paragraphs	134

5.3	Nurturant paragraphs	135
5.3.1	Care	137
5.3.2	We	140
5.3.3	Social rights	142
5.3.4	Fairness	143
5.3.5	Opportunity	145
5.3.6	Protection	146
5.3.7	Responsibility	147
5.3.8	Freedom	147
5.3.9	Strategies for presenting values	148
5.3.10	Concluding remarks on nurturant paragraphs	162
5.4	Contra Strict Father paragraphs	163
5.5	Mixed paragraphs	172
6	Values and Metaphors in Obama's Speeches	175
6.1	Metaphors in the corpus: an introduction	175
6.2	Metaphors in value-laden paragraphs	176
6.3	Metaphorical values	178
6.4	Using metaphorical fixed phrases	180
6.4.1	Fairness: fair taxation/distribution of money	180
6.4.2	Care: supporting nurturant professions (teachers)	182
6.4.3	We: empowering people	184
6.4.4	Self-discipline/self-reliance	185
6.5	Fight as a source domain for different values	186
6.6	Values relying on the general source domains of motion, orientation, construction and a few others	190
6.6.1	We: cooperation	190
6.6.2	We: unity	194
6.6.3	Opportunity: opportunity for children, opportunity for everyone	196
6.6.4	Care: help for the people in need	198
6.7	Metaphorical (re)building and repairing	198
6.8	Concluding remarks on values and metaphors	200
7	Values and Lexical Preferences in Obama's Speeches	202
7.1	Obama's lexical preferences	202
7.1.1	Words providing context	204
7.1.2	Words describing content(s)	205
7.1.3	Words searching for appeal	206
7.1.4	Further considerations on highly frequent words	212
7.2	Obama's lexical choices and Lakoff's models	215
7.2.1	Gender and family words	215
7.2.2	Potential NP words	218
7.2.3	Potential SF words	221

8 Conclusion	225
Appendix 1: Metaphorical Expressions in Value-laden Paragraphs	230
Appendix 2: Frequency of Metaphorical Expressions in Value-laden Paragraphs	289
Appendix 3: Highly Frequent Words in the Corpus	292
Notes	295
Bibliography	299
Index	308