

Contents

List of tables	vii
List of contributors	viii
Acknowledgements	x
1 Introduction: disciplining judges – exercising statecraft Richard Devlin and Sheila Wildeman	1
2 Regulation of judicial misconduct in Australia: why, how and where next? Suzanne Le Mire	23
3 The Canadian Judicial Council’s (elusive) quest for legitimacy Richard Devlin and Sheila Wildeman	49
4 The long march to professionalizing judicial discipline in China Susan Finder	78
5 Fighting with the ghosts of the past: the discipline process for judges in Croatian law Dubravka Aksamovic and Sanja Mišević	107
6 Judicial conduct, complaints and discipline in England and Wales: assessing the new approach Graham Gee	130
7 ‘Belling the cat’: judicial discipline in India Tony George Puthucherril	155
8 Why is the complaints procedure still lacking in Italy? The difficult pathway towards a more transparent, inclusive and effective disciplinary system Daniela Cavallini	179
9 Shifting the balance: public perspective and the Japanese judicial discipline process Sarah M R Cravens	204

10	Disciplinary control of judges in the Netherlands: a vulnerable system Jonathan E Soeharno	225
11	The politics of regulating and disciplining judges in Nigeria Olabisi D Akinkugbe	254
12	Weaponizing judicial discipline: Poland Fryderyk Zoll and Leah Wortham	278
13	Judge and be judged: judicial discipline in South Africa Hugh Corder and Calli Solik	308
14	Legal process theory and judicial discipline in the United States Dmitry Bam	334
	Index	362