Preface	xi
Acknowledgments	xv
About the Authors	xvii
Chapter 1 Introduction: The Basics of Research Design	1
Ways of Knowing	1
Research Stages	4
Variables	6
Operational Definitions	9
Levels of Measurement and Units of Analysis	11
The Relationship of Projects, Method, and Theory	13
Making Mistakes	17
Finding a Topic	20
Pairing the Textbook and Workbook	23
Case Study	24
Study Guide	26
For Further Study	27
Chapter 2 The Ethics of Working with Human Participants	29
Ethics in Conducting Research with Human Subjects	29
The Researcher's Responsibilities to the People We Study	31
The Researcher's Responsibilities to Scholarship and the Public	36
Ethical Dilemmas	37
Vulnerable Populations	40
Positionality and Privilege	42
The Institutional Review Board Process	44
Pairing the Textbook and Workbook	45
Case Study	46

For Further Study	49
References	49
Chapter 3 Sampling	51
What Is a Sample?	51
Nonprobability Samples	53
Types of Nonprobability Samples	55
Choosing Key Informants	58
Probability Samples	59
Types of Probability Samples	61
Sampling in the Hypothetico-Deductive Method	63
Pairing the Textbook and Workbook	64
Case Study	64
Study Guide	68
For Further Study	68
Chapter 4 Participant Observation	69
The Advantages of Participant Observation	69
Fieldwork Roles	70
Skills for Participant Observation	72
Getting Started	75
What to Expect When You're Doing Fieldwork	76
Jottings	79
Pairing the Textbook and Workbook	83
Case Study	83
Study Guide	86

Chapter 6 Interviewing	113
Types of Interviewing	113
The Semi-structured Interview	116
Interactions during the Interview	120
Interviewing and "the Truth"	122
Pairing the Textbook and Workbook	125
Case Study	125
Study Guide	127
For Further Study	128
Chapter 7 Introduction to Coding and Analysis	129
What Is Coding?	129
Inductive versus Deductive Coding	131
Analytical Method 1: Deductive Latent Content Analysis	132
Analytical Method 2: Grounded Theory (Inductive Coding)	135
Analysis: Identifying Themes in Your Codes	140
Crafting an Ethnographic Story: The Recipe Box Method	143
Pairing the Textbook and Workbook	147
Case Study	148

Study Guide	151
For Further Study	151
Reference	151
Chapter 8 Surveys and Mixed Methods Design	153
Mixed Methods Design	153
Survey Question Format	157
Rules for Wording Survey Questions	160
Survey Distribution	164
Survey Analysis and Writing	168
Pairing the Textbook and Workbook	172
Case Study	173
Study Guide	175
For Further Study	176
Chapter 9 Cultural Domains: Modeling Cognition and Knowledge	177
Cognitive Anthropology and Models	177
Folk Taxonomies: Data Collection	179
Folk Taxonomies: Analysis	182
Cultural Models: Data Collection	184
Cultural Models: Analysis	187
Decision-Tree Models: Data Collection	191
Decision-Tree Models: Analysis	196
Pairing the Textbook and Workbook	198
Case Study	199
Study Guide	201
For Further Study	202
Chapter 10 Indirect Observation	203
Visual and Material Culture	203
Interpreting Material Culture	206

Diary Studies	207
Archival Studies and Digital Ethnography	210
Remembering the Original Context	213
Pairing the Textbook and Workbook	214
Case Study	214
Study Guide	216
For Further Study	217
Chapter 11 Behavior and Context	219
Mapping Human Behavior	219
Passive Direct Observation	226
Continuous Monitoring	227
Spot Sampling	229
Describing Behavior and Context in Ethnographic Narratives	231
Pairing the Textbook and Workbook	231
Case Study	232
Study Guide	234
For Further Study	235
Chapter 12 Conclusion: Putting It All Together	237
Self-Assessment and Refinement	237
Collegial Relationships and Peer Review	238
Culminating Experiences	239
Pairing the Textbook and Workbook	242
Study Guide	243
