

Contents

List of contributors	vii
-----------------------------	-----

INTRODUCTION

1	The interdependence of issues relating to the universality, proliferation and costs of human rights	2
	Thomas Van Poecke, Marie Bourguignon, Jan Wouters and Koen Lemmens

PART I THE UNIVERSALITY OF HUMAN RIGHTS

2	The mythic universality of the Universal Declaration on Human Rights: revisiting the drafting history of the UDHR in search of a foundational theory	27
	Nick Goetschalckx
3	The case for a comprehensive global human rights treaty under UN auspices	47
	Konstantinos D. Magliveras
4	The universality of human rights: a European perspective	69
	Paul Lemmens
5	Recognition of same-sex relationships under the ECHR: till death – or the lack of European consensus – do us part	85
	Johan Lievens and Nele Verbrugghe

PART II THE PROLIFERATION OF HUMAN RIGHTS

6	The proliferation of human rights: between devotion and calculation	114
	Kasey McCall-Smith
7	Human rights adjudication: between hopes and failures	143
	Dalia Palombo

- 8 Sustainable development in 'new generation' trade agreements of the European Union: towards integration or fragmentation of the human rights language? 172
Michelle Meulebrouck
- 9 Denationalization under the EC(t)HR: a need for an autonomous human right to a nationality? 197
Louise Reyntjens

PART III THE COSTS OF HUMAN RIGHTS

- 10 Economic, social and political costs of the (non-)realization of human rights: towards a new social contract 220
Felipe Gómez Isa
- 11 Conflicts in human rights-based development 241
Gustavo Arosemena and Bart Kleine Deters
- 12 Rights and development: the costs of human rights in Ethiopia 270
Dina Townsend and Nicky Broeckhoven
- 13 The least financially accountable branch? The right to health and the judiciary's power of the purse: an Israeli perspective 300
Hillel Sommer

CONCLUSION

- 14 The human rights project: perspectives on universality, proliferation and costs of human rights 323
Dima Yared
- Index* 337