

Contents

1	Introduction	1
1.1	Methodology	1
1.2	Bibliography	3
	References	5
2	Before the 1820s: Setting the Stage for Women's Intellectual Progress	7
2.1	Earliest Period	7
2.2	Renaissance and Reformation	10
2.3	Baroque and Classicism	13
	References	17
3	1820s–1918: An Expansion of Women's Intellectual Pursuits	19
3.1	The Needs of the National Revival	19
3.2	Women Supporting Men's Virtues and Happiness	24
3.3	Women and Romantic Science	29
3.4	Education, Duty, and Happiness	38
3.5	First University Graduates	45
	References	54
4	Czech Women in Philosophy and Science Since 1918	57
4.1	In the Spirit of the First Republic	57
4.1.1	Historical and Social Context	57
4.1.2	Private Female Researchers in Contact with Scientific Institutions	63
4.1.3	Women at Universities	67
4.1.4	Solitary Female Thinkers	73
4.2	Second World War	76
4.3	Rise of Communist Ideology	81
4.3.1	Historical and Social Context	81
4.3.2	Involvement Within Academic Institutions	84
4.3.3	Emigrants and Dissidents	96
	References	101

5 Conclusion	105
Historical Timeline	107
Index	113

1	Introduction	1
1	1.1 Methodology	1
3	1.2 Bibliography	3
3	References	3
7	2 Before the 1820s: Setting the Stage for Women's Intellectual Progress	7
7	2.1 Earliest Period	7
10	2.2 Renaissance and Reformation	10
13	2.3 Baroque and Classicism	13
17	References	17
19	3 1820s–1918: An Expansion of Women's Intellectual Pursuits	19
19	3.1 The Needs of the National Revival	19
24	3.2 Women Supporting Men's Virtues and Happiness	24
29	3.3 Women and Romantic Science	29
38	3.4 Education, Duty, and Happiness	38
45	3.5 First University Graduates	45
54	References	54
57	4 Czech Women in Philosophy and Science Since 1918	57
57	4.1 In the Spirit of the First Republic	57
57	4.1.1 Historical and Social Context	57
63	4.1.2 Private Female Researchers in Contact with Scientific Institutions	63
67	4.1.3 Women at Universities	67
73	4.1.4 Solitary Female Thinkers	73
76	4.2 Second World War	76
81	4.3 Rise of Communist Ideology	81
81	4.3.1 Historical and Social Context	81
84	4.3.2 Involvement Within Academic Institutions	84
96	4.3.3 Emigrants and Dissidents	96
101	References	101