

Contents

Preface	1
---------	---

Part I

1. East Asia and Liberal International Order: Hegemony, Balance, and Consent in the Shaping of East Asian Regional Order	G. John Ikenberry	7
2. The European Integration Model: What Relevance for Asia?	Fraser Cameron	33
3. Regional integration, regional institutions, and national policies: A Theoretical and Empirical Examination of Regional Integration in Asia and Europe	Yoshinobu Yamamoto	45
4. Asian Regional Integration and Institutionalization comparing the EU and Asia: Reconciliation and the Alliance with the US	Kumiko Haba	61

Part II

5. China and the Shanghai Cooperation Organization, 1996 to 2007	Seiichiro Takagi	87
6. East Asian Community as Seen from Regional Communications	Kenichiro Hirano	101
7. ASEAN and Asia-Pacific Security	Susumu Yamakage	113
8. South Korea-Japan Relations in the "East Asian Community"	Tadashi Kimiya	127

Part III

9. Polish Presidency of the Council of the EU and the European International Politics

Antoni Z. Kamiński 141

10. Is Comparative Regionalism Possible?:

The Security-Economy-Normative Nexus in Europe and East Asia

Ken Endo 149

11. Germany's Changing Role in the European Union

Yuichi Morii 163

12. Various Kinds of the Regional Cooperation in the Balkans:

In Hopes of "New Balakans"

Nobuhiro Shiba 169

Part IV

13. Вопросы безопасности в Северо-Восточной

Азии и отношения доверия между Японией и Россией

Shigeki Hakamada 179

14. The Japan-U.S. Alliance and a Rising China:

A Quest for New Realism

Takashi Oshimura 195

15. Free Trade Agreement and Economic Partnership Agreement

in Mongolia in the Global Age

Nobuto Iwata 209

16. Integration of Postwar Germany:

Experience of Western Europe and Integration of East Asia

Satoshi Shimizu 215

17. The Construction of Identity in the European Integration

and the USA as the Other: 1969-1973

Ryoko Yoshino 233

Concluding Remarks

251

Biography

267