

CONTENTS

Finally, and most importantly, I offer recognition and love to the people who keep me going. From intellectual engagement to companionship, and those often mixed together, you are the loved ones in my life who have kept me back in such ways that make me better. Much love to Nita, Prakash, Susan, and Gabriela.

Acknowledgments	x
Foreword by Eve Tuck	xii
Introduction	1
1 Educational Research as a Site of Coloniality	11
2 (Dys)Functionality: Educational Research and Settler Colonialism	29
3 Research as Relational	48
4 Answerability	71
5 Beyond Social Justice	84
Index	98