

previous versions were published in the review Europe, No. 825/826, January–February 1998, and in the conference annals published by the organizers, Mallarmé ou l'obscurité humaine, Paris: Hermann, 1999.

Contents

'The Gay Science of Bertolt Brecht' was published in an issue of Les Cahiers de L'Herne dedicated to Bertolt Brecht, and edited by Bernard Dort and Jean-François Peyret. See Les Cahiers de L'Herne, No. 35/1, 1979.

'Borges and French Disease' is a modified version of a paper given in May 2004 at the University of Freiburg, at a conference on literary relationships between France and Latin America, under the direction of Lisa Bloch de Behar and Walter Bruno Berg. The conference annals are due to be published in France by L'Harmattan.

Acknowledgements	vi
Part I Hypotheses	1
1 The Politics of Literature	3
2 Literary Misunderstanding	31
Part II Figures	47
3 The Putting to Death of Emma Bovary: Literature, Democracy and Medicine	49
4 On the Battlefield: Tolstoy, Literature, History	72
5 The Intruder: Mallarmé's Politics	80
6 The Gay Science of Bertolt Brecht	99
7 Borges and French Disease	128
Part III Crossings	147
8 The Truth through the Window: Literary Truth, Freudian Truth	149
9 The Historian, Literature and the Genre of Biography	168
10 The Poet at the Philosopher's: Mallarmé and Badiou	183
Index	206