

Contents

Introduction 1

PART I A FOUNDATIONAL UNDERSTANDING OF ANIMAL PROPERTY LAW 9

- 1* The Nexus of Animal Rights and the Rights of Nature 11
- 2* Biodiversity Loss as a Property Law Problem 32

PART II REVEALING THE EXISTING BODY OF ANIMAL PROPERTY RIGHTS 43

- 3* The Biological Origins of Property 45
- 4* Uncovering Animal Rights in Existing Property Law 56

PART III A ROADMAP FOR PROPERTY OWNERSHIP TO BENEFIT BIODIVERSITY 63

- 5* Using Legal Trusts to Implement a System of Animal Property Rights 65
- 6* Traditional Legal Pathways to Formalizing Animal Property Rights 79
- 7* Leveraging Property Rights to Aid Biodiversity 87

- 8 Case Studies of Stakeholder Collaborations Managing Resource Competition between Humans and Wildlife 94
- Case Study 1: Ranchers and Wild Horses in the West 96
- Case Study 2: Outsourcing Thick-Billed Parrot Recovery
to Mexico 101
- Case Study 3: Traditional Ecological Knowledge and Scientific
Management of Caribou 108

PART IV ANALYZING THE POTENTIAL OF ANIMAL
PROPERTY OWNERSHIP 121

- 9 Evaluating a Property-Based Approach to Biodiversity Preservation 123
- 10 The Implications of Interspecies Ownership on Property Theory 137
- Conclusion: Are Animal Property Rights the Rights of Nature? 149

Acknowledgments 157 Notes 161 Index 189