

1 Why write a book about capital?

1

Capitalism without capital	1
This book is not about economics	2
How and why	3
What's wrong with capital theory?	5
Toward a new theory of capital	7
A brief synopsis	10
Part I: dilemmas of political economy	10
Part II: the enigma of capital	12
Part III: capitalization	13
Lineages	14
Part IV: bringing power back in	15
Part V: accumulation of power	17
The capitalist creorder and humane society	19

PART IDilemmas of political economy

23

2 The dual worlds

25

The bifurcations	25
Politics versus economics	27
The liberal view	27
The Marxist perspective	28
Capitalism from below, capitalism from above	29
Real and nominal	30
The classical dichotomy	30
The Marxist mismatch	31
Quantitative equivalence?	32

3	Power	34
	The pre-capitalist backdrop	34
	The new cosmology	36
	The new science of capitalism	38
	Separating economics from politics?	40
	Enter power	42
4	Deflections of power	45
	Liberal withdrawal and concessions	46
	Neo-Marxism	47
	The three fractures	49
	Neo-Marxian economics: monopoly capital	50
	Kalecki's degree of monopoly	50
	From surplus value to economic surplus	51
	Realization and institutionalized waste	51
	The limits of neo-Marxian economics	52
	The culturalists: from criticism to postism	53
	Statism	55
	The techno-bureaucratic state	55
	The autonomous state	57
	The capitalist state	58
	The state imperative	59
	The flat approach	59
	The hierarchical approach	60
	Political Marxism	61
	The capitalist totality	63
PART II
	The enigma of capital	65
5	Neoclassical parables	67
	The material basis of capital	68
	The production function	69
	The two assumptions	69
	Where does profit come from?	70
	The birth of 'economics'	71
	Marginal productivity theory in historical context	72
	The end of equilibrium	72
	Public management	74
	The best investment I ever made	76
	Some very unsettling questions	77
	The quantity of capital	77
	Circularity	78

Reswitching	78
The Cambridge Controversy	79
Resuscitating capital	80
The measure of our ignorance	82
The victory of faith	83
6 The Marxist entanglement I: values and prices	84
Content and form	85
The labour theory of value	86
Three challenges	87
Socially necessary abstract labour	87
Production	89
Transformation	89
The road ahead	89
The second transformation	90
Why only labour?	91
Excluding power	91
Omitting capitalization	92
What does the labour theory of value theorize?	92
Testing the labour theory of value	94
The price of what?	95
Absence of value	96
Recap	97
The first transformation	97
Inconsistency, redundancy, impossibility	99
The dual system	99
The complicating detour	100
Joint production	101
Capitalism sans values?	102
The transformation so far	104
New solutions, new interpretations	104
Changing the assumptions	105
Complexity	105
Changing the definitions	106
Recounting costs	106
Prices as values	107
7 The Marxist entanglement II: who is productive, who is not?	110
Productive and unproductive labour	110
Production versus circulation	112
Financial intermediation, advertising and insurance	112
Disaggregates in the aggregate	113
Objective exchange values?	114
Eating the cake and having it too	114

Capitalist answers, pre-capitalist questions	115
The product itself and the amount of wealth	116
The transformation of nature	116
Human needs	117
Non-capitalist production	118
Reproducing the social order	118
Social services	119
What is non-capitalist?	120
A qualitative value theory?	121
The retreat	121
Marx's science	122
Quality without quantity?	124
8 Accumulation of what?	125
What gets accumulated?	126
Separating quantity from price	126
Quantifying utility	128
Let the price tell all	128
Finding equilibrium	130
Quantity without equilibrium	133
Hedonic regression	136
Quantifying labour values	138
Concrete versus abstract labour	138
A world of unskilled automatons?	140
Reducing skilled to unskilled labour	141
A clean slate	144
PART III
Capitalization	145
9 Capitalization: a brief anthropology	147
Utility, abstract labour, or the nomos ?	147
The unit of capitalist order	150
The pattern of capitalist order	153
Formulae	153
First steps	155
Coming of age	155
The capitalization of every thing	158
Human beings	158
Organizations, institutions, processes	161
The future of humanity	164
Capitalization and the qualitative-quantitative nomos of capitalism	166

10 Capitalization: fiction, mirror or distortion?

167

From fiction to distortion: Marx's view 167

From mirror to distortion: the neoclassical view 170

Microsoft vs General Motors 172*Tobin's Q: adding intangibles* 174*Boom and bust: adding irrationality* 177

The gods must be crazy 180

11 Capitalization: elementary particles

183

Earnings 185

Hype 188

Decomposition 188*Movers and shakers of hype* 189*Random noise* 192*Flocks of experts and the inefficiency of markets* 193*Let there be hype* 195

The discount rate 196

The normal and the risky 198

Probability and statistics 199*Averting risk: the Bernoullian grip* 201*The unknowable* 202

The capital asset pricing model 203

Portfolio selection 204*CAPM* 205*Circularity* 207

Risk and power 208

The degree of confidence 208*Toward a political economy of risk* 210

Summing up 211

Appendix to Chapter 11: strategists' estimates of S&P earnings

per share 212

PART IVBringing power back in

215

12 Accumulation and sabotage

217

The categories of power 217

Veblen's world 219

Industry and business 219*The two languages* 220*The immaterial equipment* 222*The hand of power* 223

The social hologram 223

The whole picture	223
Resonance and dissonance	225
Absentee ownership and strategic sabotage	227
The natural right of investment	227
Private ownership and institutionalized exclusion	228
The right to property	229
The absentee ownership of power	230
Strategic sabotage	231
The direction of industry	233
The pace of industry	235
Business as usual	236
Taking stock and looking ahead	239
Pricing for power	239
From price taking to price making	239
The markup and the target rate of return	241
Pricing and incapacitating	242
Is free competition free of power?	242
The capitalist norm	243
The normal rate of return and the natural rate of unemployment	243
Antecedents: return and sabotage in antiquity	244
Pecuniary power: ancient versus capitalist	245
The differential underpinnings of universal sabotage	246
In sum	248
Capital and the corporation	248
Capital as negation	248
The rise of the modern corporation	249
Productive wealth and corporate finance	253
Equity versus debt	253
Immaterial assets	253
Material assets	255
The maturity of capitalism	256
Fractions of capital	259
Severing accumulation from circulation	259
Where have all the fractions gone?	260
Toward fractions of power	261

13 The capitalist mode of power

Material and symbolic drives	264
The invisible technology	264
The two archetypes	265
Neolithic culture	265
Power civilization	266
The mega-machine	268

The mega-machine resurrected: capital	269
Owners and technocrats	272
State and capital	274
Metamorphosis	275
Reordering	275
Contradictory interdependency	276
Notions of space	278
Cosmic space	278
Social space	279
State as a mode of power	280
The feudal mode of power	282
The feudal state	282
The limits of feudal power	285
The capitalization of feudal power	286
Faubourg, bourg, bourgeoisie	287
The dual economy	287
Private and public	288
Liberty as differential power	288
War and inflation	289
War and credit	291
Bypassing power: private instruments	291
Absorbing power: state finance	292
The genesis of capital as power	294
The government bond	294
Primitive accumulation?	295
Government capitalized	297
The state of capital	299
Who are the regulators?	299
Sovereign owners?	300
Whose policy?	301
Whose interests?	301
What is to be done?	302

PART V
Accumulation of power	303
14 Differential accumulation and dominant capital	305
Creorder	305
Creating order	305
The power role of the market	306
How to measure accumulation?	307
'Real' benchmarking?	307
It's all relative	309
Differential capitalization and differential accumulation	310

The capitalist creorder	310
The figurative identity	312
The universe of owners	313
Dominant capital	315
Aggregate concentration	316
Differential measures	319
Accumulation crisis or differential accumulation boom?	322
Historical paths	325
The boundaries of novelty	325
Spread, integration, oscillation	326
Regimes of differential accumulation	327
Some implications	331
15 Breadth	334
Green-field	335
Running ahead of the pack	335
Running with the pack	335
Mergers and acquisitions	338
A mystery of finance	338
The efficiency spin	339
From efficiency to power	341
Patterns of amalgamation	343
Merger waves	343
Tobin's Q	343
From classical Marxism to monopoly capitalism	345
Differential advantage	346
Three transformations	347
Breaking the envelope	348
Globalization	350
Capital movements and the unholy trinity	351
Global production or global ownership?	352
Net or gross?	354
Capital flow and the creorder of global power	356
Foreign investment and differential accumulation	358
Appendix to Chapter 15: data on mergers and acquisitions	359
16 Depth	361
Depth: internal and external	362
Cost cutting	363
'Productivity' gains	364
Input prices	365
Stagflation	366
The historical backdrop	366
Neutrality?	368

Aggregates	368
Disaggregates	369
Redistribution	370
Winners and losers	370
Workers and capitalists	370
Small and large firms	372
Patterns	374
Accumulating through crisis	375
Business as usual	375
The imperative of crisis	375
Varieties of stagflation	376
The stagflation norm	377
The hazards of inflation	379
Capitalization risk	379
The politics of inflation	379
Stop-gap	380
Policy autonomy and the capitalist creorder	381
17 Differential accumulation: past and future		383
Amalgamation versus stagflation	384
The pattern of conflict	386
A new type of cycle	386
Oscillating regimes: a bird's eye view	387
The role of the Middle East	389
Coalitions	392
Unrepeatable since time immemorial?	394
The retreat of breadth	394
The boundaries of differential accumulation	395
Out of bounds	396
Postscript, January 2009	397
References		401
Index		430