CONTENTS

Table of Cases	XXV
Tables of Legislation	xlv
List of Abbreviations	liii
No. Philips School 1
I THE GENERAL PART—STRUCTURES AND THEMES
1. General Introduction—Aims, Rationale, and Methodology  Mark Freedland	3
Introduction	3
1. The Problematical Centrality of the Contract of Employment	4
2. The Institutional Basis of the Law of the Contract of Employment	6
<ul><li>3. The Contract of Employment between Agreement and Regulation</li><li>4. A Normative Reconstruction of the Law of the Contract</li></ul>	11
of Employment	18
5. Doctrinal Analysis of the Law of the Contract of Employment	22
2. The Legal Structure of the Contract of Employment  Mark Freedland	28
Introduction—Structure and Variety in the Law of the Contract
of Employment	28
1. A Theory of Structural Principles	29
2. The Three Central Principles of Exchange, Integration, and Reciprocity	39
3. Variety and Evolution in the Structure of the Contract
of Employment	45
Conclusion—Principle, Normativity, and Practice in the Evolving
Structure of Contracts of Employment	49
3. The Exchange Principle and the Wage-Work Bargain  Mark Freedland and Simon Deakin	52
Introduction—The Wage-Work Bargain, Fair Exchange, and Stability	52
1. 'Fair Exchange' in the Law of the Contract of Employment	55

	A. Conditionalities B. Parities	57 61
	C. Minimum Standards	62
	<ol> <li>'Stability' in the Regulation of the Wage-Work Bargain</li> <li>Exchange, Integration and Reciprocity, and the Changing</li> </ol>	63
	Structures of the Wage-Work Bargain	64
	4. The Wage-Work Bargain and the Adequacy of the Contract	01
	of Employment	68
4.	The Relationship between the Contract of Employment and Statute ACL Davies	73
	Introduction	73
	1. The Primacy of the Contract of Employment	75
	2. The Primacy of Statute	81
	A. Statute as 'Permissive' of Common-Law Development	82
	B. Statute as 'Restrictive' of Common-Law Development	86
	Conclusion	95
5.	The Contract of Employment and Collective Labour Law  Alan Bogg and Ruth Dukes	96
	Introduction	96
	1. The Contract of Employment—From Atrophy to Formalization	98
	<ul> <li>A. Collective Bargaining and the Atrophy of the Employment Contract: 1850–1950</li> </ul>	99
	B. The Donovan Commission: The End of 'Atrophy'?	101
	C. The Individualization of the Employment Contract: From Atrophy
	to Formalization	103
	2. The Unitary Contract of Employment	105
	A. Towards a Unitary Model of the Contract of Employment	106
	B. Open-ended Employment as Standard	107
	C. A Standard Employment Relationship?	109
	D. Flexibility and Employment  The Ware Work Reprin and Industrial Action	112
	3. The Wage-Work Bargain and Industrial Action	112
	<ul><li>A. Strike Action: Breach, Suspension, and Fundamental Human Rights</li><li>B. Industrial Action and the Wage-Work Bargain: A Principle of</li></ul>	116
	Fair Exchange?	119
	Conclusion	122
6.	The Autonomy of the Common Law of the Contract of Employment
	from the General Law of Contract  Douglas Brodie	124
	Introduction	124
	The Pluralism of Contract Law	124
	1. THE I MIGHT OF CONTRACT LAW	14)

_
	2. Modifying the General Framework	128
	3. Modification and Cross-fertilization	130
	4. The Opportunities for and Perils of Further Cross-fertilization	131
	5. Changes in the External Environment	134
	6. The Role of Policy	135
	7. The Role of Third Parties	137
	8. Construction	138
	9. Further Developments	141
	Conclusion	144
	Conclusion
7.	Relational Contracts	145
	Douglas Brodie
	Introduction	145
	1. Long-Term or Relational?	146
	2. Arriving at a Judicial Conception of a Relational Contract	149
	3. Determining the Norms of the Relationship	151
	4. The Significance of Judicial Recognition	152
	5. Future Developments?	153
	A. Reciprocity	153
	B. The Norms of the Relationship	155
	C. Relational Contracting and Non-Contractual Relationships	156
	D. Multiple Relationships	159
	E. Preservation of the Relationship	160 164
	F. Maintenance of the Relationship and Self-help	104
8.	The Contract of Employment and the Remedial Dimension	167
	Lizzie Barmes
	Introduction	167
	1. Remedying Contractual Wrongdoing in Empirical Perspective	168
	A. Forming Work Relations	168
	B. Conducting and Ending Work Relationships	170
	C. Empirical Conclusions	178
	D. Uncovering the Normativity of the Common Law of the Contract of Employment	170
	1 /	179 180
	2. Remedying Contractual Wrongdoing in Doctrinal Perspective	100
9.	Human Rights and the Contract of Employment	188
	Hugh Collins and Virginia Mantouvalou
	1. The Common Law and Human Rights	188
	2. Human Rights in the Construction of the Contract of Service	190
	A. Right to Work	190
	B. Right to Strike	191

Einat Albin and Jeremias Prassl  Introduction  1. Fragmenting Work, Fragmented Regulation, and Social Exclusion A. Fragmented Work and Fragmented Regulation B. The Three Meanings of Social Exclusion 2. The Standard Contract of Employment as a Driver of Social Exclusion A. Fragmenting Work B. Fragmented Regulation Conclusion  218  A. Fragmented Regulation 229  Conclusion  230  11. The Contract of Employment and Gendered Work Sandra Fredman and Judy Fudge Introduction 1. Women's Work—A Historical Perspective 2. Paid Domestic Work 3. The Exclusionary Role of the Contract of Employment in Modern Labour Law 4. Atypical Contracts, Precarious Work, and Gender—Home Care Workers A. Zero-Hours Contracts and Home Care Work B. Mutuality of Obligation and Employment Status C. Work Organization and the Minimum Wage D. The Conundrum of Paid Home Care 5. The Way Forward? Moving Beyond Contract Conclusion  126  253  117  265  276  287  298  299  299  291  291  292  293  294  295  296  297  297  297  297  298  297  297  297		<ul> <li>C. Right to Peaceful Enjoyment of Property</li> <li>D. Right to Liberty and the Contrast with Slavery and Forced Labour</li> <li>3. Human Rights as a Foundational Perspective for Employment Law</li> <li>A. Areas of Concern</li> <li>B. Potential Benefits of a Human Rights Orientation</li> <li>4. The Challenge of Civil Liberties to the Relation of Subordination</li> <li>A. Unfair Dismissal and the Test of Reasonableness</li> <li>B. Implied Term of Mutual Trust and Confidence</li> <li>C. Wrongful Dismissal and Human Rights</li> <li>Conclusion</li> </ul>	192 192 195 196 198 202 203 205 206 207
Introduction  1. Fragmenting Work, Fragmented Regulation, and Social Exclusion A. Fragmented Work and Fragmented Regulation B. The Three Meanings of Social Exclusion 2. The Standard Contract of Employment as a Driver of Social Exclusion A. Fragmenting Work B. Fragmented Regulation 2.24 Conclusion 2.30  11. The Contract of Employment and Gendered Work Sandra Fredman and Judy Fudge Introduction 1. Women's Work—A Historical Perspective 2. Paid Domestic Work 3. The Exclusionary Role of the Contract of Employment in Modern Labour Law 4. Atypical Contracts, Precarious Work, and Gender—Home Care Workers A. Zero-Hours Contracts and Home Care Work B. Mutuality of Obligation and Employment Status C. Work Organization and the Minimum Wage D. The Conundrum of Paid Home Care 5. The Way Forward? Moving Beyond Contract Conclusion  12. The Contract of Employment, Corporate Law, and Labour Income Wanjiru Njoya Introduction 253	10.	Employment as a Driver of Social Exclusion	209
Introduction 231  1. Women's Work—A Historical Perspective 232  2. Paid Domestic Work 236  3. The Exclusionary Role of the Contract of Employment in Modern Labour Law 238  4. Atypical Contracts, Precarious Work, and Gender—Home Care Workers 241  A. Zero-Hours Contracts and Home Care Work 241  B. Mutuality of Obligation and Employment Status 242  C. Work Organization and the Minimum Wage 243  D. The Conundrum of Paid Home Care 247  5. The Way Forward? Moving Beyond Contract 247  Conclusion 253  12. The Contract of Employment, Corporate Law, and Labour Income Wanjiru Njoya  Introduction 253		<ol> <li>Fragmenting Work, Fragmented Regulation, and Social Exclusion         A. Fragmented Work and Fragmented Regulation         B. The Three Meanings of Social Exclusion     </li> <li>The Standard Contract of Employment as a Driver of Social Exclusion         A. Fragmenting Work         B. Fragmented Regulation     </li> </ol>	209 213 213 216 218 219 224 230
Introduction  1. Women's Work—A Historical Perspective  2. Paid Domestic Work  2. The Exclusionary Role of the Contract of Employment in Modern Labour Law  2. Atypical Contracts, Precarious Work, and Gender—Home Care Workers  2. A. Zero-Hours Contracts and Home Care Work  2. B. Mutuality of Obligation and Employment Status  2. Work Organization and the Minimum Wage  2. D. The Conundrum of Paid Home Care  2. The Way Forward? Moving Beyond Contract  2. Conclusion  2. The Contract of Employment, Corporate Law, and Labour Income Wanjiru Njoya  Introduction  2. The Contract of Employment, Corporate Law, and Labour Income Wanjiru Njoya  Introduction  2. The Contract of Employment, Corporate Law, and Labour Income Wanjiru Njoya  Introduction  2. The Contract of Employment, Corporate Law, and Labour Income Wanjiru Njoya  Introduction  2. The Contract of Employment, Corporate Law, and Labour Income Wanjiru Njoya  Introduction  2. The Contract Of Employment, Corporate Law, and Labour Income Wanjiru Njoya  Introduction	11.		231
Wanjiru Njoya Introduction 253		<ol> <li>Introduction</li> <li>Women's Work—A Historical Perspective</li> <li>Paid Domestic Work</li> <li>The Exclusionary Role of the Contract of Employment in Modern Labour Law</li> <li>Atypical Contracts, Precarious Work, and Gender—Home Care Workers         <ul> <li>Zero-Hours Contracts and Home Care Work</li> <li>Mutuality of Obligation and Employment Status</li> <li>Work Organization and the Minimum Wage</li> <li>The Conundrum of Paid Home Care</li> </ul> </li> <li>The Way Forward? Moving Beyond Contract</li> </ol>	231 232 236 238 241 241 242 243 247 247 252
	12.		253
		Introduction  1. The Corporation as a Nexus of Contracts	253 258

	2. The Melding of Contract and Status	260
	3. Shareholder Value and Human Capital	263
	4. Property, Trust, and Legitimate Expectations	266
	5. Claims upon Termination of Employment	269
	Conclusion	271
13.	Developments in Contract of Employment Jurisprudence in Other
	Common-Law Jurisdictions: A Study of Australia	273
	Joellen Riley
	Introduction	273
	1. Collective Industrial Relations in Australia	275
	A. Relationship between Industrial Awards and Contract	277
	B. Influence of Tribunals	279
	2. Commercial and Social Influences on the Development of
	Employment Contract Law	283
	3. Australian Recognition of English Developments	286
	A. Johnson v Unisys and Coherence in the Law	287
	B. Damages for Mental Distress	289
	C. Mere Distress	289
	D. Damage to Reputation	290
	E. Autonomous Development of Employment from General	201
	Commercial Contract Law	291
	Conclusion	293
14.	A Comparative Reflection from Canada—A Good Faith Perspective	295
	Claire Mummé
	Introduction	295
	1. Good Faith in England and Canada: Normative Convergence
	Amidst Structural Difference	296
	2. The Structure of the Chapter	297
	3. The History—Addis in Canada	300
	4. The Doctrine	302
	A. The Limits of Wrongful Dismissal Damages	302
	B. Constructive Dismissal and the Implied Duty of Civility	309
	C. Limitation on Negligence Claims in Employment	311
	D. The New Duty of Honest Contractual Performance	314
	Conclusion	317

II. THE SPECIFIC PART—AREAS AND DOCTRINES

15.	The Definition of the Contract of Employment and its
	Differentiation from Other Contracts and Other Work Relations	321
	Joellen Riley
	Introduction	321
	1. The Problem of Definition	322
	2. 'Of Service' or 'For Services'	324
	3. Common-Law Tests for Identifying Employment	326
	A. Control	326
	B. Organizational Integration	327
	C. Economic Reality	328
	D. Mutuality of Obligation	328
	E. Multi-indicia or Multifactorial Test	329
	4. Manipulation of Tests	331
	5. Triangular Relationships	333
	6. Responses to the Boundary Problem	335
	A. Legislative Solutions	336
	B. Sham Contracting Provisions	338
	Conclusion	339
6.	Employees, Employers, and Beyond: Identifying the Parties
	to the Contract of Employment	341
	Jeremias Prassl and Einat Albin
	Introduction	341
		341
	1. The Central Role of the Contract of Employment in Shaping	262
	the Definition of Employee and Employer  A. The Pole of Contract as the 'Eurodemontal Legal Institution'	343 343
	<ul><li>A. The Role of Contract as the 'Fundamental Legal Institution'</li><li>B. The Received Understanding of the Contract of Employment as</li></ul>	343
	a Bilateral Relationship	345
	C. The Resulting 'Third-Party Problem'	346
	2. Identifying the Parties to the Contract of Employment:
	The Employee	348
	A. Mutuality of Obligation	348
	B. Workers under Zero-Hours Contract Arrangements	349
	C. Partnerships and Limited Liability Partnerships	351
	3. Identifying the Parties to the Contract of Employment:
	The Employer	352
	A. Agency Work and Outsourced Labour	353
	B. Corporate Groups	357
	C. Customers	358
	Conclusion	361

17.	The Contract of Employment as an Expression of
1/.	Continuing Obligations	362
	Nicola Countouris
	Introduction	362
	1. Continuity in Employment in a Historical Perspective—From	302
	the Annual Hiring Model to the Contract of Employment of Indefinite Duration	365
	2. The Three Dimensions of Continuity: Length of Service,	50)
	Regularity, and Nature of the Obligations	369
	3. Continuity and Length of Service	371
	A. Establishing Length of Service—Commencement and Ending	373
	B. Length of Service across Different Employers	374
	C. Continuity, Length of Service, and Equal-treatment Legislation	374
	4. Continuity and Regularity	375
	A. Regularity, Statute, and Contract	376
	B. Regularity Within the Contract of Employment	376
	C. Regularity Between Separate Contracts of Employment	377
	5. Continuity, Mutuality, and the Nature of Contracts	379
	Conclusion	382
18	Formation of the Contract of Employment	383
10.	Simon Deakin	000
	Introduction	383
	1. Contract, Statement, and Sources of Labour Law	385
		30)
	2. Effects of the Decline of Collective Bargaining and the Rise	391
	of Standard-form Employment Contracts  3. Reform of the Written Statement Law	394
	Conclusion	396
10	Illegality, Public Policy, and the Contract of Employment	397
1).	Alan Bogg	37/
	Introduction—Illegality and the Institutional Nature of the Contract
	of Employment	397
	1. The Normative Structure of Illegality	401
	A. General Principles	401
	B. The Future of Illegality: Public Policy and Fundamental Rights	404
	2. The Legal Structure of the Illegality Enquiry in Employment	/00
	Claims	408
	A. Characterizing the Nature of the Employment Claim: Contract or Tort?	409
	B. Contractual Illegality	411
	C. Statutory Illegality	412
	D. Illegality in Performance of Employment Contracts: Employment	112
	Rights and the Revenue Regime	415

	<ul> <li>3. The Legal Effects of Illegality on Contractual Rights</li> <li>A. The Distinction between Culpable and Innocent Parties</li> <li>B. The Doctrine of Severance</li> <li>C. Restricting Recoverable Damages While Leaving the Legal Right Unimpaired</li> <li>D. Restitutionary Claims for Quantum Meruit</li> <li>Conclusion</li> </ul>	422 423 423 424 424 425
20.	Terms Inserted into the Contract of Employment by Legislation ACL Davies	427
	<ol> <li>Introduction</li> <li>Terms Imposed by Statute         <ul> <li>A. Notice</li> <li>B. Equal Pay for Men and Women</li> <li>C. National Minimum Wage Arrears</li> <li>D. Choice of Enforcement Option</li> <li>E. Conclusion</li> </ul> </li> <li>Statutory Rights given Contractual Effect by the Courts</li> <li>Conclusion</li> </ol>	427 428 429 431 433 435 441 441
21.	The Content of Contracts of Employment—Terms Incorporated from Collective Agreements or from Other Sources  Astrid Sanders	449
	<ol> <li>Introduction</li> <li>The General Approach to Incorporation of Terms from Other Sources</li> <li>Collective Agreements</li> <li>Company Handbooks</li> <li>Disciplinary and Grievance Procedures</li> <li>Differential Treatment of Collective Agreements</li> <li>Conclusion</li> </ol>	449 451 460 464 465 468 470
22.	Implied Terms in the Contract of Employment  Hugh Collins	471
	<ol> <li>The Types of Implied Terms in Employment</li> <li>Test for Terms Implied in Fact</li> <li>Test for Terms Implied by Law</li> <li>Confusion in the Use of Implied Terms         <ul> <li>A. Metamorphosis from Fact to Law</li> <li>B. Instrumental Misclassification</li> </ul> </li> <li>Exclusion of Implied Terms</li> <li>Implied Terms in the Era of Written Contracts of Employment</li> </ol>	471 474 477 480 480 482 483 490

23.	Variation and Suspension of the Contract of Employment
25.	and its Terms	492
	Nicola Countouris and Astrid Sanders
	Introduction	492
	1. Variation—Key Principles	492
	2. Sources of the Ius Variandi—Ex Ante Clauses and Ex Post
	Agreement	495
	A. Contractual Variation Clauses	496
	B. Variation by Subsequent Agreement	499
	3. Limitations upon Variation	502
	A. Mutual Trust and Confidence	502
	B. Collective Agreement	503
	4. Suspension—Key Principles	503
	5. Sources and Possible Effects	507
	6. Limitations upon Suspension	511
	Conclusion	513
24	Duration, Lawful Termination, and Frustration of the
24.		515
	Employment Contract	515
	David Cabrelli
	Introduction—Policy, Context, and Doctrine	515
	1. Duration	517
	A. Basic Sketch	517
	B. Reform	520
	2. Termination by Lawful Dismissal	521
	A. Dismissal by Reasonable Notice or Payment in Lieu of Notice	521
	B. Reform	523
	C. Summary Dismissal	527
	3. Termination by Resignation or Retirement	530
	A. Resignation	530
	B. Retirement	531
	4. Termination by Expiry and Non-renewal of a Fixed-term
	Employment Contract	532
	5. Non-lateral Termination: Frustration	534
	Conclusion	535
25.	The Wrongful Termination of the Contract of Employment	537
	Alan Bogg and Mark Freedland	201
	Introduction	537
	1. The Enduring Legacy of Addis v Gramophone Company Ltd	540
	2. From Addis to Johnson: The Rise and Fall of Mutual Trust and Confidence in the Sphere of Wrongful Dismissal	545

	3. The Restrictiveness of Johnson v Unisys	549
	4. The Constitutional Basis to Johnson	550
	5. The Resilience of Addis in Johnson	553
	6. Conclusion: The Culmination in Edwards v Chesterfield	556
26.	The Effect of Termination upon Post-Employment Obligations  David Cabrelli	561
	Introduction	561
	1. Repudiatory Breach, Wrongful Termination, and
	Post-Employment Primary Obligations	562
	A. Introduction	562
	B. Primary and Non-primary Obligations	562
	C. Nature and Content of Obligations Imposed Post-Employment when Employer is in Repudiatory Breach	565
	D. Nature and Content of Obligations Imposed Post-Employment
	when Employee is in Repudiatory Breach	569
	E. Post-Employment Obligations: Some Analytical Reflections	571
	2. Restrictive Covenants and Garden Leave	576
	Conclusion	580
27.	Intellectual Property and the Contract of Employment Jeremias Prassl	582
	1. Introduction	582
3	A. Intellectual Property in the Context of the Employment Relationship	583
	B. The Common-Law Position	584
	C. Statutory Regimes	585
	2. Limitations Inherent in the Contract of Employment	586
	A. Unclear Scope of the Statutory Provisions	586
	B. Inability to Deal with Complex Situations	588
	3. Limitations Arising from Express Terms	590
	A. The Common Law	591
	B. The Patents Act 1977	592
	4. Limitations Arising from the Implied Term of Confidentiality	594
	Conclusion	597
28.	Remedies for Breach and for Wrongful Dismissal	599
	Lizzie Barmes
	Introduction	599
	1. Recovering Employment Contract Debts and Enforcing
	Obligations in Ongoing Contracts of Employment	600
	A. Debt versus Damages Claims	600
	B. Enforcing Contractual Obligations in Ongoing Contracts	602
	2. Recovering Damages for Breach Unconnected to Termination	605
	A. Personal Injury Claims	606

	B. Valuable Money Claims	608
	3. Recovering Damages for Breaches Connected to Termination	609
	A. Contractual Termination Entitlements on Solid Ground	613
	B. Contractual Termination Entitlements on Shifting Sands	615
	4. Injunctive Relief from Breaches of Contract	616
	Conclusion	619
29.	The Contract of Employment in its International and European
	Law Setting	621
	Louise Merrett
	Introduction	621
	1. The Private International Law Setting	622
	2. The Territoriality of UK Employment Law	624
	3. Application of UK Employment Law in International Cases	627
	A. The Law Applicable to the Contract of Employment	627
	B. Preventing the Employer from Contracting Out of
	Employment Protection: Non-excludable Rules	629
	C. Overriding Mandatory Rules	633
	4. A Re-examination of the Territoriality Principle?	638
	Conclusion	641
Inde	ex	643