

Contents

About the Authors	xi
Preface	xiii
Acknowledgments	xix
1 Couple and Family Technology: The Emergence of a New Discipline	1
The Prevalence of Technology in Daily Life	1
A Technological Revolution	3
The Rise of the Machines	5
The Rise of the Applications	9
Implications of Increased Technology Use on Relationships	10
Scholarly Attention to Technology in Relationships	12
The Couple–Family–Technology Interface: Reconceptualizing Relationships in a Digital Age	13
2 The Basics of Online Coupling	22
Comparing and Contrasting Face-to-Face and Computer-Mediated Communication	22
Is Technology Good or Bad for Relationships?	27
Motivation for Participation in Interactive Communication Technologies	28
Motivations Toward Participation in Synchronous Versus Asynchronous Communication	32
Characteristics of Those Meeting and Relating Online	38
Types of Online Relationships	40
Phases of Online Dating	42

3	Issues E-merging in Couple Life	49
	Shared Time Together	49
	Online Video Gaming	51
	Accountability	54
	Suspicion and Jealousy	56
	Cybersex	57
	Internet and Sex Addiction	61
	Online Infidelity	63
	Gender	65
4	The Couple and Family Technology Framework	76
	The Development of the CFT Framework	76
	The Flexibility of the CFT Framework	81
	Case Conceptualization: Using the CFT Framework	81
5	Ecological Influences on the Couple System	85
	Acceptability	85
	Anonymity	88
	Accessibility	90
	Affordability	93
	Approximation	94
	Accommodation	96
	Ambiguity	99
6	The Interactional Nature of Structure and Function	106
	Physical Structure of Technology Versus Psychological Structure	109
	Implications for Roles	111
	Implications for Relational Rules and Boundaries	112
	Processes and Technology	115
	Intimacy Development With and Without Technology	116
	Relationship Satisfaction in Online Relationships	122
7	Assessment in the CFT Framework	129
	Assessment of Specific Issues Related to Technology in Couple Relationships	129
	Assessment of Problematic Internet Usage in Couples	131
	Assessment of the Ecological Elements	134

Assessment of Technology Practices Within Family Systems	134
Technological Genogram Vignette	138
8 Treatment of Internet-Based Problems Through the CFT Framework	145
Existing Treatment Strategies	145
Cybersex and Internet Infidelity Treatment	147
Critique of Existing Frameworks	151
The CFT Treatment Framework	151
Two Key Issues in the Treatment of Technology Problems	152
Managing Ecological Elements	154
Managing Structural Issues	155
Managing Process Issues	156
Using the CFT Framework: The Case of Jake and Bella	159
9 Electronically-Mediated Communication Across a Couple's Developmental Lifespan	165
Couple Initiation	166
Childfree Couples	169
Couple Development With Children	170
Couple Development With Adolescents	174
Couple Development With Adult Children	177
Couple Development With Aging Parents	178
Relationship Termination	179
10 Technology, Risks, and Relationships	188
Common Risks to Relationships Associated with Technology and New Media	188
Cyberbullying	188
Cyberstalking	190
Intimate Partner Violence	192
11 Final Thoughts on Technology and Relationships	198
Technology's Place in the Field of Couple and Family Therapy	198
Promoting a Systems View of Technology and Interpersonal Relationships	199

Filling a Theoretical Gap	200
Implications for Research and Training	200
Appendices	203
Appendix A: Ecological Elements Questionnaire	203
Appendix B: General Technology-Focused Genogram Questions	213
Appendix C: Couple and Family Technology-Focused Genogram Questions	213
Appendix D: Electronic Developmental Life Span Questions	217
Appendix E: Technology-Based Resources	221
Index	226