

---

Contents

---

|  |     |
|--|-----|
| Acknowledgments   | vi  |
| Introduction: 'Men in skirts' and other dilemmas and disappointments                                 | 1   |
| 1 The masculinist foundations of Australia's legal and constitutional framework                      | 25  |
| 2 Jobs for the girls: Judicial appointments to the High Court of Australia and the politics of merit | 42  |
| 3 Sworn to be: Gender, difference and judicial swearing-in speeches                                  | 67  |
| 4 A judgment of one's own? Staking a claim to judicial authority                                     | 95  |
| 5 PGA v The Queen and the judicial imagination  | 115 |
| 6 Gendered harms in Monis v The Queen   | 142 |
| 7 The art of looking back: The farewell ritual and the construction of judicial legacies             | 168 |
| 8 The High Court today: Negotiating progress, privilege and hegemonic masculinity                    | 188 |
| Conclusion: From non-persons to almost-parity: a masculinist gender order disrupted?                 | 217 |
| Bibliography  | 227 |
| Index   | 250 |