

Contents

Foreword xi

Preface xv

Acknowledgments xxi

I Trompe-l'Oeil Nature

1	Configurations of Continuity	3
2	The Wild and the Domesticated	32
	Nomadic Spaces	33
	The Garden and the Forest	38
	The Field and the Rice Paddy	44
	Ager and Silva	48
	Herdsmen and Hunters	51
	The Roman Landscape, the Hercynian Forest, and Romantic Nature	53
3	The Great Divide	57
	The Autonomy of the Landscape	57
	The Autonomy of Phusis	63
	The Autonomy of Creation	66
	The Autonomy of Nature	68
	The Autonomy of Culture	72
	The Autonomy of Dualism	78
	The Autonomy of Worlds	85

II The Structures of Experience

4	The Schemas of Practice	91
	Structures and Relations	92
	Understanding the Familiar	98
	Schematisms	101
	Differentiation, Stabilization, Analogies	107

5	Relations with the Self and Relations with Others	112
	Modes of Identification and Modes of Relation	112
	The Other Is an "I"	115

III The Dispositions of Being

6	Animism Restored	129
	Forms and Behavior Patterns	130
	The Variations of Metamorphosis	135
	Animism and Perspectivism	138
7	Totemism as an Ontology	144
	Dreaming	146
	An Australian Inventory	148
	The Semantics of Taxonomies	155
	Varieties of Hybrids	162
	A Return to Algonquin Totems	165
8	The Certainties of Naturalism	172
	An Irreducible Humanity?	174
	Animal Cultures and Languages?	179
	Mindless Humans?	185
	The Rights of Nature?	192
9	The Dizzying Prospects of Analogy	201
	The Chain of Being	202
	A Mexican Ontology	207
	Echoes of Africa	221
	Pairings, Hierarchy, and Sacrifice	226
10	Terms, Relations, Categories	232
	Encompassments and Symmetries	235
	Differences, Resemblances, Classifications	240

IV The Ways of the World

11	The Institution of Collectives	247
	A Collective for Every Species	248
	Asocial Nature and Exclusive Societies	256
	Hybrid Collectives That Are Both Different and Complementary	258
	A Mixed Collective That Is Both Inclusive and Hierarchical	268
12	Metaphysics of Morals	281
	An Invasive Self	282
	The Thinking Reed	289

Representing a Collective	291
The Signature of Things	298

v An Ecology of Relations

13	Forms of Attachment	309
	Giving, Taking, Exchanging	311
	Producing, Protecting, Transmitting	321
14	The Traffic of Souls	336
	Predators and Prey	337
	The Symmetry of Obligations	345
	The Togetherness of Sharing	352
	The Ethos of Collectives	359
15	Histories of Structures	365
	From Caribou-Man to Lord Bull	366
	Hunting, Taming, Domesticating	377
	The Genesis of Change	386

Epilogue: The Spectrum of Possibilities 391

Notes 407

Bibliography 429

Index 451