

Contents

List of Illustrations VII

Abbreviations X

Introduction 1

- 1 Theories of Socioeconomic Impact: from Immanuel Wallerstein's 'World Systems' to Kondratiev/Schumpeter Waves 7
 - 1.1 World Systems Analysis: from Business Cycles to Ancient World Theory 7
 - 1.2 Central Place Theory, Gateway Cities, Break-In Transportation Theory: an Outline 15
 - 1.3 Substantivism and Formalism: a Dispute over the Importance of Economic Phenomena in the Past 26
- 2 Trade in the Period from the 10th to the 12th Centuries: Merchants during the Early and High Middle Ages 33
 - 2.1 Who Are the Merchants? 33
 - 2.2 Those Who Come and Go: the Idea of an Itinerant Market 47
 - 2.3 Fair Trading 60
 - 2.4 The Customs Duty System: Just and Fair Duty 65
- 3 The Scandinavian Peninsula and the Balkan Peninsula: a Comparative Analysis 71
 - 3.1 Scandinavian Economic Penetration in the Light of Sources of North European Provenance 71
 - 3.2 Scandinavian Economic Penetration in the Light of Oriental Sources 84
 - 3.3 Trade on the Balkan Peninsula Territory 93
 - 3.4 Production and Dependent Population: an Example of the Balkan Peninsula 103
- 4 Goods That Were Exchanged in Trade 114

Appendix: A Source Study: High Medieval Market Institutions— “ut nullus teloneum exigat nisi in mercatibus ubi communia commertia emuntur ac venundantur”	159
Conclusions	201
Bibliography	207
Index	249