

CONTENTS

A Note on Names	xi
List of Abbreviations	xiii

PART I. 1450-1780: A MEDIEVAL ENVIRONMENT

1. The Ethiopian Church in the Age of Zara Ya'iqob	3
i. Introduction: The Council of Dabra Mitmaq	3
ii. Coptic and Aksumite Origins	5
iii. Ethiopia's Hebraic Character	11
iv. Monasticism and Monarchy in the Fourteenth Century	17
v. The 'House of Ewostatewos' and Sabbath Observance	28
vi. The Policies of Zara Ya'iqob	34
vii. The Age of Baida Maryam	42
2. Africa in 1500 and its Christian Past	46
i. Society, States, Statelessness, and Religion	46
ii. African Islam	54
iii. The Christian Past of North Africa and Survival in Egypt	62
iv. Nubia	67
3. The Kongo, Warri, Mutapa, and the Portuguese	71
The Fifteenth and Sixteenth Centuries	71
i. Portugal Overseas	71
ii. Kongo and its Initial Evangelization	73
iii. Benin and Mutapa	77
iv. Kongolese Catholicism under Afonso I and his Immediate Successors	79
The Seventeenth and Eighteenth Centuries	87
v. The Diocese of São Salvador and the Jesuits	87
vi. The Mission of the Capuchins	94
vii. The Battle of Ambuila, Kimpa Vita, and the Antonian Movement	102
viii. The Kongo Church in the Eighteenth Century	109
ix. Angola, Sierra Leone, Warri, and Mutapa	118
x. The Slave Trade and its Implications	123
xi. An Evaluation	126

4. Riches to Rags: Ethiopia 1500–1800	130
i. The Church of Lebna Dengel	130
ii. The Jihad of Gran	136
iii. Galawdewos, the Jesuits, and Enbaqom	139
iv. Paez and Susenyos	148
v. Mendes and Fasiladas	154
vi. The Eighteenth Century	162
PART II. 1780–1890: FROM THE ANTI-SLAVERY TO TOTAL SUBJUGATION
5. Equiano to Ntsikana: From the 1780s to the 1820s	173
i. London, Africa, and Protestantism	173
ii. West African Protestant Beginnings and the Foundation of Freetown	177
iii. The Advance of Islam	188
iv. Kongo Christianity under Garcia V	194
v. South Africa: Genadendal, Bethelsdorp, and Kuruman	197
vi. The Mission Village: A Discussion	209
vii. Khoi Leadership and Ntsikana	215
6. The Lion Revived: Ethiopia in the Nineteenth Century	222
i. The Age of the Princes	222
ii. Tewodros 1855–68	229
iii. Yohannes IV and Menelik	234
7. The Victorian Missionary	242
The Evolution of a Movement	242
i. Where Protestant Mission had Arrived by the 1840s	242
ii. The Catholic Revival	248
iii. David Livingstone and his Influence	250
iv. Verona Fathers and White Fathers	253
v. The State of Missionary Complexity by 1880	255
Style, Priorities, and Mind	258
vi. Missionary Characteristics and Life-Style	258
vii. Missionary Teaching	270
viii. The Uses of Medicine	275
ix. Language and Translation	278
x. Christianity, Civilization, and Commerce	282
xi. The Three Selves and the Pursuit of Adaptation	293
xii. What Missionaries Thought of Africa	298
8. Kings, Marriage, Ancestors, and God	306
i. Monarchies and Christianization	306

ii. Rain	313
iii. Social Structure: Marriage, Circumcision, and Secret Societies	317
iv. Ancestors, Deities, and God	325
9. Christian Life in the Age of Bishop Crowther	338
i. 'Black Europeans'	338
ii. Crowther and the Niger Diocese	343
iii. Yoruba Christianity	349
iv. The South African Predicament	358
v. Buganda: Conversion, Martyrdom, and Civil War in the 1880s	371
vi. Revival in the Kongo	385
vii. The Niger Purge	388

PART III. 1890-1960: THE CHRISTIANIZING OF HALF A CONTINENT

10. A Variety of Scrambles: 1890-1920	397
The Context of Conversion	397
i. The Why and How of the Scramble	397
ii. Islam within the Scramble	405
iii. Missionaries and the Politics of Partition	408
iv. The Changing Shape of Missionary Endeavour	417
v. The Ownership of Land	424
vi. Missionaries as Critics of Colonialism	428
The Shaping of Conversion	437
vii. Black Evangelism: Some Southern Examples	437
viii. West African Conversion Movements in the Age of Harris	443
ix. The Catechist and his Tools	453
x. Logics of Conversion	461
xi. Buganda: mass Conversion in the 1890s	464
xii. Buganda as a Model for its Neighbours	468
xiii. A Comparison between Conversions	475
xiv. Varieties of Ethiopianism	478
xv. The Impact of World War	487
11. From Agbebi to Diangienda: Independency and Prophetism	493
i. 'African Churches' in Nigeria and South Africa 1888-1917	493
ii. The Rise of Zionism	499
iii. Elliot Kamwana	504
iv. Harrists and Kimbanguists	505

v. Aladura	513
vi. East and Central Africa: From Kuniya to Lenshina	519
vii. Independency in the 1950s	525
viii. Causes and Motivations	527
ix. The Character of Prophetic Christianity	533
12. Church, School, and State in the Age of Bishop Kiwanuka	540
The State and the Missionary	540
i The 1920s and Education	540
ii The Second World War and the Triumph of Nationalisms	546
iii Protestant Missionary Priorities in the Oldham Era	550
iv The Catholic Breakthrough	559
v The Missionary of the 1950s	567
The Character of Christian Community	571
vi Catholic Masaka	571
vii Conversion, Community, and Catechist	575
viii Dreams	584
ix Church and Society	586
x Associational Religion: From Welfare Group and Manyano to Balokole and Jamaa	592
xi A Modern Leadership	604
Appendix 1. Kings of Ethiopia and Kongo Referred to in the Text	611
Appendix 2. Maps	613
1. Ethiopia, fifteenth to seventeenth centuries	613
2. Christian Nubia	614
3. The Kingdom of Kongo, fifteenth to seventeenth centuries	615
4. Islam in West Africa and the nineteenth-century Fulani empires	616
5. The West Africa coast in the late nineteenth century	617
6. Protestant missions in South and East Africa established by 1885	618
7. The principal Catholic missionary societies at work in Africa between 1850 and 1890	619
8. Buganda and its neighbours	620
Bibliography	621
Index	686