

Contents

Dimitris Stamatopoulos	Introduction	1
PART I. THE OTTOMAN EMPIRES
Dimitris Stamatopoulos	Prelates Weeping on Demand, Prelates Nationalists, Prelates Janissaries: Instrumentalist Discourses and Power Entanglements of the Christian Orthodox Clerical Elites in the Late Ottoman Empire	15
Fujinami Nobuyoshi	Hellenizing the Empire Through Historiography: Pavlos Karolidis and Greek Historical Writing in the Late Ottoman Empire	29
Ariadni Moutafidou	International Crisis and Empire: Muslim and Jewish Solidarity with the Ottoman Imperial Ideal in the Greek-Ottoman War of 1897	57
PART II. THE BALKAN EMPIRES
Bogdan Trifunović	Dreaming of an Empire: Discourse Analysis of Serbian Poetry at the Beginning of the 20th Century	81
Nikolay Aretov	An Attractive Enemy: The Conquest of Constantinople in Bulgarian Imagery	101
Naoum Kaytchev	“Turkish Illyrians” or Bulgarians/Serbs? Ottoman South Slavs Within the Croatian and Bulgarian National Models (1830s–1840s)	115

PART III. EASTERN SLAVIC EMPIRES

Magdalena Żakowska

Russia in Serbian and Bulgarian National Mythologies
Until the First World War

143

Lora Gerd

Russian View on Balkan Nationalism (1878–1914)

173

Liliya Berezhnaya

Imagining the Third Rome and the New Jerusalem
In the 16th–18th Century Polish-Lithuanian Commonwealth

199

PART IV. OTTOMAN UTOPIAS AND DYSTOPIAS

Maro Kalantzopoulou

Balkan Nationalisms Against the Oriental Empire: Balkan National Poetry and the Disavowal of a Literary System

227

Eleonora Naxidou

Differing Perceptions of Ottoman Rule in the Bulgarian Ethnic Narrative of the Revival

257

Konstantinos Giakoumis

Against the Imperial Past: The Perception of the Turk and the Greek “Enemy” in the Albanian National Identity-Building Process

277

List of Contributors

301

Index

307