

CONTENTS

FOREWORD xiii

PREFACE xvii

CHAPTER 1

THE COMMUNITY COUNSELING MODEL 1

The Search for More Effective Counseling Paradigms 1

The Traditional Counseling Paradigm 3

Shifting Paradigms 4

Community Counseling Defined 6

Building Community: The Challenge of the 21st Century 6

RESPECTFUL Counseling 8

Religious/Spiritual Identity 10

Economic Class Background 11

Sexual Identity 11

Psychological Maturity 12

Ethnic/Racial Identity 13

Chronological/Developmental Challenges 13

Trauma and Other Threats to One's Well-Being 14

Family Background and History 15

Unique Physical Characteristics 16

Location of Residence and Language Differences 16

The Community Counseling Model 19

Overview 19

Basic Assumptions 20

The Role of the Community Counselor 27

The Individual and the Environment 27

A Multifaceted Approach Within a Multicultural Society 28

Promoting Prevention 29

From Model Concept to Model Program 30

Direct Community Services: Prevention Education 31

Direct Client Services: Outreach and Counseling for Vulnerable Populations 32

Indirect Community Services: Systemic Changes and Public Policy	33
Indirect Client Services: Advocacy and Consultation A Unified Approach	34
The Community Counseling Model in Action	36
Aunt Martha's Youth Service Center	36
The "I Have a Future" Program	41
Ethics and the Community Counseling Framework	46
What Are Counselors to Do?	47
Summary	48
References	51

CHAPTER 2

PREVENTIVE EDUCATION 57

A Rationale for Prevention	57
The Limitations of Individual Counseling	58
Resistance to Prevention	58
Incorporating Preventive Strategies in Counseling Practice	59
Multicultural Considerations	59
Stress: An Overview	60
Theories of Stress	61
The Cultural Specificity of Stress Reactions	62
The Universality of Stress Reactions	64
Stress Management Interventions	64
Controlling the Environment	65
Altering Mental Processes	66
Changing Lifestyles	67
Altering Physiological Responses to Stress	67
The Stress Management Workshop	69
Health Promotion Programs	70
Overview: A Holistic Approach	70
Health Promotion in an Urban Setting: A Health Center for At-Risk Youth	72
Health Promotion in a Rural Setting: The Madison County Health Project	76
Life Skills Training: Promoting Personal Competence	78
Definition and Importance of Life Skills	78
Effectiveness of Life Skills Training Programs	79
Promoting Intrapersonal and Interpersonal Competencies	80
Gazda's Life Skills Training Model	81
The Prepare Curriculum: Goldstein's Problem-Solving Program	82
School-Based Preventive Life Skills Programs	84
Violence Prevention and Conflict Resolution	85

Summary	86
References	88

CHAPTER 3

OUTREACH TO VULNERABLE POPULATIONS 94

Defining Vulnerable Populations	94
An Equation for Psychological Health	95
Helping Clients Learn New Coping Strategies	96
Model Outreach Programs	100
Helping People Cope with Marital Disruption	101
The Family Development Project:
Helping Pregnant Adolescents	105
Addressing the Mental Health Needs of Latinos/Latinas:
The Inquilinos Boricuas en Acción	109
Promoting the Wellness of Battered Women	112
Outreach to Children Who Witness Domestic Violence	116
Crisis Intervention and Suicide Prevention	116
Definition of Crisis	117
The Phases of Crisis	117
Suicide Prevention	119
Summary	122
References	123

CHAPTER 4

COMMUNITY COUNSELING AND THE COUNSELING PROCESS 127

The Role of Direct Counseling	128
Four Models of Responsibility	128
Understanding and Nurturing Hope	129
Promoting Personal Responsibility	132
Self-Efficacy	132
Self-Managed Behavior Change	132
Social Responsibility	134
Promoting Social Responsibility by Fostering Competence and Personal Responsibility	135
Developmental Stages	136
Multicultural Counseling and Therapy	141
Systems Theory and Environmental Influences	144
Family Counseling	145

Postmodernism and Family Counseling	146
Contextualism	147
Counseling for Personal Liberation	151
Practical Applications of Community Counseling	154
Assessment	154
Individual and Environmental Change	161
Summary	168
References	169

CHAPTER 5

THE COMMUNITY COUNSELOR AS SOCIAL CHANGE AGENT 175

The Role of Social Change Agent	177
Barriers and Challenges	177
Promoting Clients' Empowerment Through Social Activism	182
Ecological Considerations in Counseling Practice	185
Using an Ecological Approach with Culturally Diverse Clients	187
Microsystems: School-Based Programs	191
Mesosystems: Projects for School Development	194
Exosystems: Neighborhood Organizations	196
Macrosystems: Shaping and Changing Society	202
Macrosystems: Shaping and Changing the Fields of Counseling and Psychology	204
Indirect Community Programs and Services as Empowerment Strategies	206
Summary	209
References	210

CHAPTER 6

CLIENT ADVOCACY 215

Distinguishing Client Advocacy from Counseling	216
Stigmatization	217
Labeling that Results from Disability or Impairment	217
Racial/Cultural Stereotyping	218
The Counselor's Role	218
Empowerment Through Self-Help Groups	220
The "Helper-Therapy" Principle	221
The Ideology of Self-Help Groups	223
Mutual Support in Self-Help Groups	225
Self-Help and Political Action: Disability Rights	227

Self-Help and Volunteerism	232
Fostering a Responsive Helping Network	234
Class Advocacy	235
Advocacy in a Multicultural Society	236
Coalition Building	238
Community-Based Planning	241
Consultation	244
Summary	250
References	252

CHAPTER 7

APPLICATIONS OF THE COMMUNITY COUNSELING MODEL 257

Review of the Community Counseling Model	257
Mental Health Agencies	258
Direct Community Services	258
Direct Client Services	261
Indirect Community Services	263
Indirect Client Services	263
Career Development Agencies	264
Direct Community Services	264
Direct Client Services	265
Indirect Community Services	266
Indirect Client Services	267
Specialized Agencies and Programs	267
Direct Community Services	268
Direct Client Services	269
Indirect Community Services	270
Indirect Client Services	271
Business and Industry	272
Direct Community Services	273
Direct Client Services	274
Indirect Community Services	274
Indirect Client Services	275
Educational Settings	276
Elementary and Secondary Schools	276
Direct Community Services	277
Direct Client Services	279
Indirect Community Services	280
Indirect Client Services	281
Cultural Considerations	282

Colleges and Universities	285
Summary	291
References	294

CHAPTER 8

MANAGING THE COMMUNITY COUNSELING PROGRAM 298

Planning	299
Needs Assessment	299
Goal Setting	302
Decision Making	302
Planning for Implementation	303
Budgeting	303
Sources of Revenue	304
Organizing	306
Contrasting Two Organizational Models	306
Future Organizational Challenges	308
Leadership and Supervision	310
Leadership Style	310
The Five Components of Effective Leadership	311
The Supervisory Relationship	313
Multicultural Supervision	316
Evaluation	320
Process Evaluation	321
Outcome Evaluation	321
Unique Managerial Challenges	322
Summary	323
References	324

SUBJECT INDEX	327
---------------	-----

AUTHOR INDEX	337
--------------	-----